ON THE COVER

Today Clemson will honor one of the three perfect Tiger teams in history, Frank Howard's 1948 squad. That season, Clemson finished 11-0 and defeated Missouri in the Gator Bowl. Also featured in today's program are two senior offensive linemen, Matt Butler and Jason Gamble. In honor of Youth Day, check out page 123 for some fun games for kids.

Today's Game

Clemson vs. Furman Series

Clemson has won 26 straight games against Furman since a 0-0 tie between the two teams at Furman in 1937. Furman's last win over Clemson took place in 1936 by a 12-0 score. Overall, Clemson leads the series 38-10-4, including a 21-2 lead in games played at Clemson and 15-0 in games at Death Valley.

Clemson has won all four games between the two teams in the last 10 years. The Tigers were victorious in 1988, 23-3, a victory over a Furman team that would end the year 13-2 and Division I-AA National Champions. Clemson was victorious 30-0 in 1989, a Clemson team that would end the season ranked 12th in the final poll. The Tigers have won twice since Tommy West has been head coach, 27-6 in 1994 and 19-3 in 1996.

Clemson has not allowed a Furman touchdown since 1961 when Bill Canty scored on a three-yard run in the fourth quarter of a 35-6 Clemson victory. The Paladins have scored five field goals over the last 28 quarters against Clemson.

Clemson won the last meeting between the two teams, 19-3. Clemson's defense held Furman to -29 yards rushing, the lowest opponent figure in Clemson history. The Tigers recorded a school record 12 sacks in that game and held Furman to just 122 yards of total offense. Raymond Priester led Clemson in rushing with 118 yards in 17 attempts. Nealon Greene completed just 5-11 passes, but for 136 yards.

Rahim Abdullah led the Clemson team with three quarterback sacks, becoming the first freshman in school history to record three sacks in one game. Anthony Simmons had a career high four tackles for loss and had 11 total tackles for the day. David Richardson, Clemson's starting kicker in 1998, had a pair of field goals, including a 40-yarder, to pace the Tiger special teams.

Look Back at First Game

Furman is Clemson's oldest football rival, as the series dates to 1896 and the first game of Clemson football. That game was held on October 31, 1896 and the result was a 14-6 Clemson victory. Charlie Gentry scored Clemson's first touchdown in history.

The victory was considered an upset because Furman had been playing the game since 1889 and only two of the Tigers who played in that first game had ever seen a football game prior to that October 31 game. The Tigers had their first practice on October 5 of that year and thus had just 26 days to prepare for the first game. The Tigers were coached by Walter Merritt Riggs, who would go on to become Clemson University President. He had come to Clemson from Auburn where they had had a football team.

George Swygert, Clemson's starting center in 1896, recalled the first Furman game in an article that was published years later. Here are some of his recollections.

"Our first game was with Furman, the biggest men I have ever seen, and believe it or not, we won the game. We had a few trick plays, one was used when we were near the sidelines. Our lightest end would hide the ball under his sweater and as the two teams moved toward the center of the field for the next play, he would appear to be injured. Then when things were clear, he made a bee-line for the goal. We used this in our first game against Furman."

Paladin Scouting Report

The Furman vs. Clemson contest figures to be a battle of strength against strength. The Tigers return six starters on defense, but have many other players with significant experience. The Tiger defense was among the best in the country last year in terms of rushing defense (6th), scoring defense (16th) and total defense (18th), and that figures to be the case again this year.

Clemson will be challenged by the strength of the Furman team, its offense. Bobby Johnson's team returns nine starters from last year, a team that averaged 25.4 points per game, fourth best in the Southern Conference.

Leading the offense for Furman will be senior tailback Ernest Crosby, who will be striving to become just the eighth 2,000-yard rusher in Furman football history. He enters this season with 1637 career yards after leading the Paladins in rushing in 1997 with 681 yards. Wide receiver Desmond Kitchings is a big play performer who had 30 catches for 354 yards and three scores last year and he is also an outstanding return specialist.

Mark Foster is the anchor of the Paladin offensive line. He had the line's highest average film grade last year with an 85.6 percent mark and he had 10 winning performances. According to coach's grading last year, he had just two blown assignments in over 800 snaps.

Furman returns only three starters on defense from a unit that ranked second in the Southern Conference in total defense last year. Orlando Ruff is among the best inside linebackers in Division I-AA. He has 391 career tackles in three seasons, including 140 last year. A two-time first-team all-conference selection, Ruff also had 11 tackles for loss and three interceptions. He is seventh in Furman history in career tackles and will serve as team captain this year.

John Keith is the leader of the secondary from the strong safety position. Another first-team all-conference performer in 1997, Keith had 85 tackles, a team best four interceptions, six pass deflections and two blocked kicks. He had a 99-yard interception return for a touchdown against UT Chattanooga last year, longest in Furman history.

Clemson Scouting Report

Clemson must replace as large a cast of star players as any team in the nation. Gone is all-time leading rusher Raymond Priester, all-time passing and total offense leader Nealon Greene and number-four ranked receiver Tony Horne. And, that is just the offense. Anthony Simmons, the number-15 pick of the 1998 NFL draft and perhaps Clemson's greatest linebacker in a rich linebacker tradition, is among five starters on the 1997 defense that have moved on.

Despite these losses, Head Coach Tommy West, does have 11 starters and 42 lettermen returning. This includes a senior class 22 strong (including walk-ons) that is attempting to become the first Clemson class since the seniors of 1991 to be chosen for a bowl game all four years of their career.

Rahim Abdullah is ranked among the top-10 outside linebackers in the nation heading into 1998.

On paper, Clemson's defense would appear to be the strong suit of the 1997 Tigers, at least on opening day. Returning are some of the top players in the South, at each level of defense. Defensive end Adrian Dingle, a senior in his third year as a starter, leads all active Clemson players in tackles for loss and sacks. Rahim Abdullah is ranked among the top 10 outside linebackers in the nation and was Clemson's MVP in the 1998 Peach Bowl. Cornerback Antwan Edwards is a preseason second-team All-American according to Gannett News Service and is also ranked among the top 10 players in the nation at his position.

The offense is quarterbacked by junior Brandon Streeter. A veteran of just one start heading into the Furman game, Streeter is a three-time ACC honor roll selection who is the son of the head coach of Gettysburg College, Barry Streeter. Streeter has two outstanding returning receivers in Brian Wofford and Mal Lawyer, who had 28 receptions apiece in 1998.

The offensive line has many veteran players who have provided leadership in the preseason. Holland Postell has been chosen to some preseason All-America teams and has started 24 games in a row entering the Furman game. Jason Gamble is ranked as the number-one senior center in the nation according to one NFL Scouting Service, and junior 335-pound guard Corey Hulsey is among the top young linemen in the ACC. They will provide key blocks for running backs Jarvis Austin and Terry Witherspoon, who combined for 452 yards and four touchdowns last year.

Clemson should be very strong in terms of special teams. Kevin Laird was 33rd in the country in punting last year and has had at least a 42-yard average in each of his last eight games. David Richardson, a native of Clemson, was 13-15 on field goals and 40 percent of his kickoffs were not returned last year.

Abdullah on Butkus List

Clemson outside linebacker Rahim Abdullah is one of 68 players named on the preseason Butkus Award candidates list. Abdullah is a junior outside linebacker who will be one of the leaders of the Clemson defense. He was Clemson's most valuable player in the 1998 Peach Bowl against Auburn when he had a pair of blocked punts, a sack, four quarterback pressures, two passes broken up and three tackles.

Abdullah is ranked among the top outside linebackers in the country according to various preseason publications. He is ranked sixth according to Lindy's Magazine and 13th best according to Sporting News. He is the sixth Clemson linebacker in the decade of the 1990s to be named on the preseason Butkus Award list.

That list includes Levon Kirkland (1990 and 1991), Ed McDaniel (1991), Wardell Rouse (1994), Tim Jones (1994), and Anthony Simmons (1996 and 1997). Kirkland was ranked fifth in the final voting in 1990 and McDaniel was in the final five in 1991. Simmons was in the final 10 last year.

Edwards, Dingle, Gamble Among Top Seniors

Clemson had five players drafted into the NFL last year, one of the top 13 totals in the nation. The list featured first-round pick Anthony Simmons, who was the 15th pick of the entire draft by the Seattle Seahawks.

This year Clemson should also have some draft choices. According to the National Scouting Group, a company that ranks pro prospects, the Tigers have two of the top seniors at their position in the country. The organization ranked Clemson center Jason Gamble and Tiger outside linebacker Adrian Dingle as best in the senior class at those positions.

In the August, USA Today also published a list of top rated college prospects for the NFL draft among 1998 seniors. Edwards was ranked 21st in the nation on that list and Dingle was ranked 24th. North Carolina, Clemson, Georgia and Florida all had two players apiece in the list that included 27 players.

Tigers to Run on New Rug

When Clemson takes the field today, it will enter on a 75-foot long carpet provided by Spartanburg, SC based Milliken & Company and dedicated to William "Bill" Stewart, Ph.D., innovator of Milliken's Millitron carpet dyeing technology and a 1964 Clemson graduate.

Clemson began its tradition of running down the hill as its stadium entrance when the facility opened in 1942. In 1958 the tradition was updated with the addition of a custom made entrance carpet. With this the 40th anniversary, it is fitting that a new carpet adorns the hill at Death Valley today.

The custom-made orange, blue and white carpet depicts the Clemson name with a pawprint. Mr. Stewart, a senior scientist and 32-year associate of Milliken, will be recognized during a pregame ceremony today. "I am honored to contribute to this Clemson tradition," said Stewart.

The technology used to create Clemson's carpet was developed by Stewart in the early 1970s. The ability to create carpets such as Clemson's with large-scale patterns and precise design detail comes from Millitron's more than 40,000 dye jets that inject 400 points of color per square inch of carpet. The rug is constructed of durable nylon treated with Milliken's Milliguard advanced stain-resistance technologies.

Opening Day Records

Last season three opening day records were set by Nealon Greene and Tony Horne. Horne had four more receptions than any other opening day performance in Clemson history when he had 10 catches against Appalachian State a year ago. Greene set opening day marks for pass attempts and completions.

Here is a list of top performances by Clemson players in the opening games of the season:

Total Offense:	297 by Billy Hair vs. Presbyterian, 1951
Rushing Yards:	204 by Buck George vs. Presbyterian, 1952
Passing Yards:	283 by Jimmy Addison vs. Virginia, 1966
Pass Attempts:	31 by Nealon Greene vs. Appalachian State, 1997
Pass Completions:	20 by Nealon Greene vs. Appalachian State, 1997
Passing Efficiency:	235 by Patrick Sapp vs. UNLV, 1993
Receptions:	10 by Tony Horne vs. Appalachian State, 1997
Reception Yards:	145 by Perry Tuttle vs. Furman, 1979
All-Purpose Yards:	246 by Buck George vs. Presbyterian, 1952
Tackles:	18 by Jeff Davis vs. Rice, 1980

Clemson in Openers

Clemson has won 12 of its last 14 season openers. The only opening losses since 1983 took place in 1986 at Clemson when Virginia Tech and Coach Bill Dooley upset the Tigers, 20-14, and at North Carolina in Chapel Hill in 1996. That 1986 game with Virginia Tech was a battle of eventual bowl teams, as the Tigers ended the year 8-2-2 and ranked 17th in the nation, while Virginia Tech was 9-2-1 and ranked 20th in the final poll.

Even though this is the 103rd season of Clemson football, Clemson has had just 97 home openers in its history because five seasons Clemson did not play a game at home. In the 97 home openers Clemson has a 74-15-8 record against 26 different opponents.

Clemson has nearly an identical record in terms of the first game of the season. The Tigers are 76-18-8, regardless of site, in their first game of the season. Tommy West is 3-1 in season openers, 4-0 in home openers.

The Clemson-Furman Connection

by Tim Bourret

Clemson and Furman have been doing battle on the football field for over 100 years. The rivalry has brought about a lot of similarities and common coaches, athletes and administrators. Here is a list of common denominators between the two programs that are just 30 miles apart.

- Furman Head Coach Bobby Johnson, a 1973 Clemson graduate, will coach against his alma mater when the Paladins face the Tigers this afternoon. Johnson became Furman head coach in 1994, the same year Tommy West began his Clemson coaching career. He has been at Furman for 20 of the last 22 years, the only two years he has not been at Furman, he has been at Clemson.

In 1981, Johnson served as the academic advisor for Clemson's National Championship team. He then returned to Furman to be its defensive coordinator and remained with the Paladins until 1992. During that period Furman had a 91-31-3 record, claimed five Southern Conference titles and had eight top 20 seasons at the Division I-AA level. In 1988 Furman allowed just 9.7 points per game, best in the nation, and a big reason Furman won the I-AA National Championship.

In 1993, Johnson returned to Clemson to serve as defensive coordinator under Ken Hatfield. The Tigers had an 8-3 regular season record that season and ranked 15th in the nation in scoring defense, allowing just 16 points per game. The Tigers forced 28 turnovers and ranked ninth in the nation in turnover ratio.

As a player, Johnson led the Tigers in interceptions in 1971 and 1972 and was academic All-ACC each season. He started all 22 games for the Tigers those two seasons. He had seven interceptions over his final two years, including two against Maryland in 1971. He spent his sophomore year as a wide receiver and had 18 catches for 202 yards and two touchdowns.

- Bob Smith is a common denominator as a coach for both Universities and in fact is in the Hall of Fame for both schools. He was a star player for Furman between 1931-33 and later served as Furman's Head Coach between 1946-47. He served the Clemson Athletic Department for 28 years as a football and baseball coach. He was the head coach of Clemson's first ACC Championship baseball team in 1954. He became an assistant football coach under Frank Howard in 1950 and in his first year as line coach the Tigers were undefeated including a 15-14 victory over Miami (FL) in the Orange Bowl. He was inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame in 1988.

- Art Baker is also a common denominator on the list of coaches for both schools. Baker was the 17th head coach in Furman history and laid the ground work for the success the Furman program has had over the last 25 years. He hired Dick Sheridan, Jimmy Satterfield and Bobby Johnson as assistant coaches and all went on to become head coaches at Furman. He served as an assistant coach under Frank Howard at Clemson from 1965-69.

- Clemson and Furman met in the first football game in Clemson history. The Tigers were victorious in that game played in Greenville, 14-6.

- Current Clemson athletic director Bobby Robinson is a 1968 Furman graduate.

- Clemson executive secretary of IPTAY, George Bennett, was the athletic director at Furman between 1986-89. That includes the season that the Paladins won the Division I-A National Championship (1988). He has had nothing but record breaking years in terms of fund-raising at Clemson and was inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame and won the Alumni Association's Distinguished Service Award in 1986.

- Furman tight end Patrick Garner has all kinds of ties with both schools in multiple sports. The junior could become the only person in Clemson sports history to play basketball for Clemson, then play against the Tigers in basketball and football later in his career.

Garner began his athletic career at Clemson in 1995-96 when he came to Clemson on a basketball scholarship. He was part of the Tiger class that included Terrell McIntyre, Harold Jamison, Tom Wideman and Tony Christie, the four players who will be the leaders of Larry Shyatt's first Clemson team.

After seeing limited playing time in 1995-96, he decided to transfer to Furman. Last year he saw his first action for the Paladins, including a starting assignment against Clemson in Littlejohn Coliseum.

This past summer he decided to give football a try, a sport he has not played since high school. Now, if he plays against the Tigers in Death Valley he will become the first person to play for Clemson, then face the Tigers in two different sports.

- Furman's 4,000th point in history was scored by Bob King, in 1935 in a 8-6 victory over Clemson. King went on to become Furman Athletic Director. The 7,000th point in Furman history was also scored against Clemson, on a field goal by Riley Cordell in a 44-3 Clemson victory in 1962.

- A.P. Dizzy McLeod was Clemson line coach in 1927 and among his proteges was Clemson's first All-American, center O.K. Pressley. At Furman, McLeod was an outstanding player and coach. He was captain of the Furman team in 1922 and in 1928 became Furman's Head Basketball Coach. In fact, his 69-17 record is still the best in Furman history. In 1932 he became Furman's head football coach. In 1935 he coached Furman to an 8-1 record, a team that outscored the opposition 232-44. McLeod is the last Furman coach to defeat Clemson (1936).

- On October 8, 1960, Clemson and Furman shared the same uniform pants. In one of the most bizarre uniform stories in college sports history, both teams wore a special water repellent uniform that day. Clemson wore the pants in defeating Virginia 21-7 in the afternoon, then the pants were shipped to Furman, who wore them for a night game against William & Mary. Furman defeated William & Mary that night in Greenville, 25-23. Furman Head Coach Bob King said after his victory, "After those big Clemson boys got out of those pants, some of our guys had a hard time making them stay up and we had to tape the legs of the pants for several players." Still, the pants defeated two teams from Virginia on the same day.

- Both teams were outstanding in the decade of the 1980s and claimed their only National Championship in that decade. Clemson won the Division I National Championship in 1981 and Furman won the I-AA National title in 1988. Furman was the second winningest program in Division I-AA in the 1980s with a record of 95-25-4. Clemson was the fifth winningest program in Division I-A, posting a record of 86-25-4.

Jason Gamble

by Brian Hennessy

From the heartland of America to the middle of the Clemson offensive line, Jason Gamble will certainly be the center of attention in 1998.

Gamble, a native of Wichita, KS, will anchor a senior dominated offensive line at center for the Tigers this season. Among some of the 6-3, 300 pound center's impressive credentials include being named the Clemson Lifter-of-the-Year in 1997 and finishing first in "Psycho Circus," a grueling workout competition alá the "World's Strongest Man" competition.

"In Psycho Circus, we were matched up with a teammate so that all teams were equal," recalls Gamble. "We did reps of bench, clean, squat, and press as many times as possible in the span of 90 seconds. We also had to see how long we could hang from a bar. So you can see how it's just like the 'World's Strongest Man' competition. We wanted to add a little fun to the whole competition after all the hard work we put in."

Gamble showed he's one of Clemson's strongest men by setting two all-time Tiger weightlifting records in the spring competition. His 527 pound bench press and 402 pound clean have never been lifted before by a Clemson griddier.

"Jason gave outstanding effort in a very tough competition," states Clemson Strength Coach Joey Batson. "He was intense throughout, took it very seriously, and took care of business. In all the years that we've held this competition, he is the first 'big' man to win the event, because it takes body weight into account."

Gamble attended Derby High School in Derby, Kansas, where he lettered twice in football and three times in wrestling. He attended Hutchinson Community College in Kansas for two seasons. He was a junior college All-America offensive tackle and the Jayhawk Conference Offensive Lineman-of-the-Year in an offense that threw 70 to 80 percent of the time. What started off at Hutchinson as "just another chance to play some more football" turned into a potential professional career when several division I schools came calling.

Gamble credits Clemson Assistant Coach John Latina for his decision to wear the orange and white. "Coach Latina recruited me to come to Clemson. I remember Coach (Latina) when he coached at Kansas State. He is known around Kansas as the man who helped build the Kansas State program. Other coaches I talked with said he was one of the top offensive line coaches in the nation."

He also remembers a time when he was a six-year old kid in Wichita, then a Nebraska fan. He watched in agony as his Cornhuskers were defeated 22-15 by Clemson in the 1982 Orange Bowl. But he eventually took a liking to the Tigers, even enough to cheer for Clemson in the Tigers' 13-6 win over nearby Oklahoma in the 1988 Citrus Bowl.

His first season at Clemson saw the then-undersized lineman red-shirt. Although he was recruited to play center, he had never played the position. "It didn't happen overnight," he said. "There were things I had to work on, like stepping and snapping at the same time. Plus, I had to learn to move side to side. At tackle, I was used to just going to the left. At center, I have to go both ways. I was a little slow off the snap at first, and being the center, you should be the first one off the ball. I took time to get that down."

"Even though I was being red-shirted, I still dressed out for every game. In the Wake Forest game, Jamie Trimble and Ed Altman, both centers, were injured and could not play. I was afraid I was going to play that game and lose my red-shirt year."

Luckily, Gamble was not called upon and the Tigers have Gamble front and center in '98.

Gamble was successful making the adjustment to the starting center position in '97. He started all 12 games and was in on 675 snaps, sixth most on the team. He was a key reason Clemson set numerous school records in passing and finished second in the ACC in rushing.

Gamble has set his sights high entering the '98 season. "I don't want to toot my own horn, but I think I'm mean when I put a helmet on," the soft-spoken center states. "I get an attitude, like, 'You are wearing the wrong color.' I think that's what it takes to be successful."

An NFL scouting service recently picked the top seniors nationally position by position. You guessed it, Gamble was the player listed at center. "All that means is that I caught the eye of someone," states Gamble. "I still have to fulfill those expectations. Being honored in that way will force me to step it up and play the best I can possibly play."

As far as playing in the NFL..."I'll play for anyone; I don't care who," he said. "I don't care what round, either. I just want the opportunity to play at that level."

Gamble credits his growth as a person to his parents, Mariann and Steve. "They always supported the decisions I made. It was tough for them being so far away from Clemson, but they did not want me to go some place that I didn't want to be."

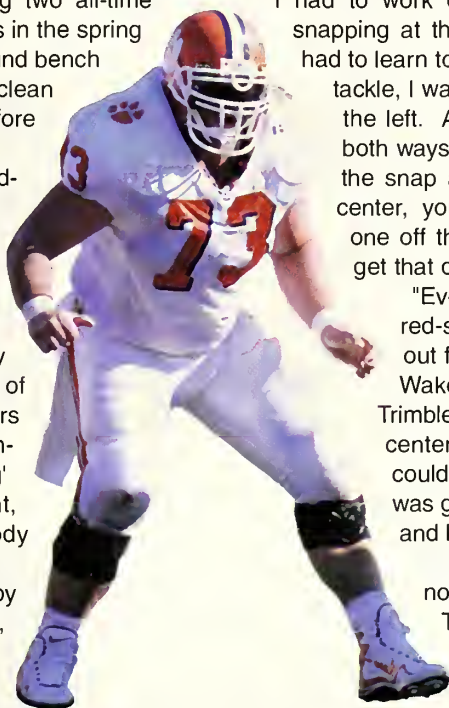

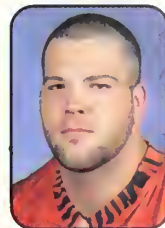

As far as career goals after his days at Clemson are over, Gamble is optimistic but realizes a professional football career can come and go. "If the opportunity to play in the NFL arises, I would love to pursue it. The love for the game is there and it hasn't become old yet. I plan to graduate in May with a speech and communication degree. So I can use what I've learned down the road when I need it."

If football isn't in Gamble's future, he sees himself back where he came from, the midwest. "I'm a city boy. I will definitely find my way back home."

"I love to be around people. I also would like to be a coach, maybe not as an on-the-field coach, but a strength coach. I think that my personality is directed towards being a good motivator."

His outgoing personality has also garnered attention from an unlikely source. When Clemson played Auburn in the Peach Bowl, a die hard Auburn fan named Jason Matheson noticed Gamble's tireless work ethic. Matheson, who designs sportspages on the internet, took a liking to Gamble and what he meant to the Clemson team. Although they did not meet in Atlanta, they spoke on the telephone and collectively thought of a way to showcase Gamble's talents. So Matheson created a sportspage dedicated to Gamble and the center's position. In it, Matheson features an in-depth look at Gamble and his play week-by-week.

Gamble truly is at the center of it all.

President Dr. Deno Curris

Constantine W. "Deno" Curris began his fourth year at the helm of Clemson University with a heightened sense of optimism and determination - and for good reason. Not only had he won a personal battle against cancer; he also had succeeded in building consensus among faculty, staff, students, and trustees about the University's direction for the future.

That direction is spelled out in a new mission statement and a set of implementing concepts adopted by the Board of Trustees at Curris' request earlier this year. The president's personal contribution was a statement of Clemson's vision: To be the nation's premier land-grant university.

No small order, but Curris believes the faculty, staff, students, alumni, and friends are up to the task. Speaking at the spring general faculty meeting, Curris outlined areas where Clemson needs to excel in order to achieve its potential. He challenged the University to:

- Increase access to Clemson without compromising academic standards, working to raise achievement at the middle and high school levels;
- Provide an educational experience second to none, bridging the gap between research and teaching;
- Create a distinctive core curriculum built around liberal arts and sciences, and emphasizing communication ability, critical thinking, ethical judgment, global awareness, scientific knowledge, and technological understanding;

- Expand research activity, particularly in areas where the University can achieve national and international distinction.

"Clemson's size and its rich tradition of faculty-student interaction give us decided advantage to become the nation's premier land-grant university," he said. "We have never embraced the concept of feedlot education, and we have benefited from a physical setting that permits the reinforcement of the curricular by the co-curricular. If there is a will to be the best, we can be."

Curris is not one to shrink from difficult challenges. After successful tenures as president at two other universities - Murray State in Kentucky and Northern Iowa - Curris quickly began to make his mark at Clemson. Progress has been made during his administration on a number of fronts: Expanding the University's information technology infrastructure, enhancing the sense of community and appreciation for traditions that add to the Clemson experience, and involving more alumni and friends in the life of the University through initiatives such as the Commission on the Future of Clemson University - a comprehensive advisory group involving more than 200 leaders in business and the professions.

A native of Lexington, Kentucky, Curris received a bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Kentucky, a master's in political science and public administration from the University of Illinois, and a doctorate in higher education from the University of Kentucky.

Curris is also a national leader in higher education. He is a past Chairman of the Board of Directors of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities and was a featured participant in a 1997 national video teleconference on "The New Public University: How Do We Compete in a Changing Environment?" Curris is also one of 25 presidents currently serving on the national Kellogg Commission on the Future of Land-Grant Universities and is South Carolina's representative on the Commission on the Future of the South.

When his schedule permits, Curris enjoys gardening, fishing, and reading. He is married to Jo Hern Curris, a tax attorney and author, and they have a son, Robert Alexander, and a daughter, Elena Diane.

Head Coach Tommy West

Tommy West's Clemson resume as a head coach includes four bowl appearances, a top 25 ranking in every season, 12 road wins and four wins over AP Top 25 teams. The 1998 Peach Bowl was Clemson's third straight year in a bowl game, something only 16 other programs can claim. This is the first time since the 1985-91 era, that Clemson has been to a bowl game three straight years and he is just the second Clemson coach in history to take the Tigers to three consecutive bowl games.

Each of his first four seasons has seen the Tigers make a late season run. In 1994, with the youngest offense in Clemson history, one that started seven freshmen at times, the Tigers won three of their last four games, including a victory at 12th ranked North Carolina.

The run of success at the end of the 1995 season had the Tigers in the top 25 of every poll. Clemson won its last five regular season games, including four wins by at least 17 points. West's Tigers were picked fifth in the ACC preseason poll that year, but, thanks to the third best offense in Clemson history and a defense that ranked 10th in the nation in scoring, Clemson finished third in the ACC standings with a 6-2 record, its best league finish since the Tigers won the ACC title in 1991.

The 1995 campaign was one in which Clemson excelled in every area. The Tigers ranked fourth in the country in rushing, yet also led the ACC in yards per pass attempt. Defensively, Clemson rated in the top 20 in the nation in rushing defense, passing efficiency defense and turnover margin. In terms of special teams, Clemson was the only school in the nation to have an individual ranked in the top 25 in punting, placekicking, punt returns and kickoff returns.

The 1996 season saw Clemson win five of its last six regular season games, including a victory at 15th ranked Virginia, just the third road win over a ranked team in the decade of the 1990s for the Tigers. For the second straight year Clemson won the ACC rushing title and reached a top 25 ranking. Again, Clemson won 75 percent of its ACC games, this time finishing tied for second in the league standings with North Carolina. The Tigers were extended a bid to the Peach Bowl to face LSU.

Last season the Tigers won four of their last five regular season games, including a 47-21 victory over South Carolina in the season finale that clinched a bowl bid.

The season featured a record setting passing attack, led by Nealon Greene, who set season records for pass completions, passing yards and completion percentage. The defense followed suit, led by first-team AP All-American Anthony Simmons, who led the conference in tackles and tackles for loss. Clemson's defense ranked in the top 20 in the nation in rushing defense, total defense and scoring defense and ranked third in the ACC in pass defense.

Clemson's improvement on the field is matched with its improvement in the classroom during the West era. In 1996-97, 20 Clemson football players made the ACC academic honor roll, the highest on record. In fact, each of the three highest totals in that area in Clemson history have taken place under West and the team's cumulative GPA entering 1998 is a 20-year high.

West took over the head coaching position on November 29, 1993. Less than a month later he already had a bowl victory on his ledger, a 14-13 triumph over Kentucky in the Peach Bowl, Clemson's sixth bowl win in an eight-year period. With his debut in the Peach Bowl, West became the sixth coach in NCAA history to make his debut with a program in a bowl game. However, he was just the second coach in history to make his debut in a bowl game without previously coaching his new team as an assistant coach earlier in the season.

West was a mainstay of a Clemson coaching staff that led the Tigers to a 69-20-4 record and six Associated Press Top 20 finishes between 1982-89. During West's first tour of duty with the Tigers as an outside linebacker coach, Clemson played in five bowl games (winning four) and claimed four ACC Championships, including three in a row from 1986-88.

Clemson had a 44-10-1 record against ACC competition during his era on the Tiger staff, an 81 percent winning mark. Additionally, five of those Clemson teams ranked in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense and scoring defense, and three ranked in the top 12 in the nation in total defense.

Clemson's 1989 defense ranked fifth in the nation in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense and West's outside linebackers had a lot to do with that success. His top four outside linebackers that year all played in the NFL in 1994. The list of former West players in the NFL includes Levon Kirkland and Wayne Simmons, both of whom have played in the Super Bowl in recent years.

West began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Tennessee (his alma mater) in 1977. He coached one year of high school football at White County High in Sparta, TN in 1978, then became an assistant at Mississippi in 1979. For the 1980 and 1981 seasons he served as an assistant coach at Appalachian State.

After his career at Clemson (1982-89), West became the running backs coach at Tennessee. During that 1990 season Tennessee won the Southeastern Conference and captured the Sugar Bowl with a win over Virginia. The Volunteers scored a school record 442 points that year and averaged over 410 yards a game in total offense, 205.7 rushing and 205.4 passing. He served as Co-Defensive Coordinator at South Carolina in 1991 and 1992.

In 1993 West took over a UT-Chattanooga team that had won just two games in 1992. He doubled that total in 1993 and guided the Mocs to one of the landmark wins in school history, a 33-31 win over #1 ranked Marshall. He concluded the regular season with a 45-42 victory over Furman. Ironically, his first regular season game as Clemson coach was a victory over Furman.

West earned three letters in his four-year career at Tennessee (1972-75). The Vols played in three bowl games and were ranked in the final Top 20 poll in three seasons. He was the co-captain of Tennessee's 1975 football team and played in the Blue-Gray All-Star game that same year.

He began his college career as a running back, but saw most of his playing time as a tight end. He caught 37 passes for 575 yards in his career with the Vols, including 16 passes for 233 yards as a senior. As a junior he caught an 81-yard pass from Condredge Holloway, still the longest non-scoring play in Tennessee history. He earned a bachelor's degree from Tennessee in 1976 and was drafted by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers that same year. West played two years (1974-75) of baseball at Tennessee and had a career batting average of .305. He hit .367 in 1975 and was named All-SEC Eastern Division.

West was a multi-sport standout in high school. He was an outfielder in baseball, a guard in basketball and a running back in football. In 1972 he was named a High School All-American in football and was a second-round draft choice in baseball by the Chicago Cubs. Willie Randolph, who went on to an All-Star career with the New York Yankees, was one of 77 future Major League players drafted after West in the regular phase of the June 1972 draft. He played his prep football at Gainesville High in Gainesville, GA for Coach Bobby Gruhn. He was an all-state back as a junior and was also named to the All-Southern team. Born Thomas Cleveland West on July 31, 1954, he is married to the former Lindsay Watkins of Forest City, NC. The couple has one son, Turner.

The West Family

Assistant Coaches

LES HERRIN
Assistant Head Coach/Defensive Line

Les Herrin is the dean of football coaches at Clemson. The assistant head coach is in his 14th season with the Tigers. In addition to his administrative duties as assistant head coach, he is the Clemson defensive line coach. Herrin has been a defensive coach at Clemson for all but one of his seasons and has coached such notable players as Chester McGlockton, Brentson Buckner, Jeff Davis and Trevor Pryce.

The 50-year old native of Waycross, GA, is the only member of the current staff who was on Clemson's 1981 National Championship coaching staff. That season Herrin coached linebacker Jeff Davis who went on to be captain of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and is a member of Clemson's prestigious Ring of Honor.

In 1982, Johnny Rembert was a starting linebacker under Herrin and he became an All-American, then a Pro Bowl player (1989) with the New England Patriots. Three-time Pro Bowl defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, regarded as one of the top defensive players in the NFL today, was coached by Herrin between 1989-91.

Brentson Buckner, a 1996 Super Bowl participant with the Pittsburgh Steelers, who is now with the San Francisco 49ers, also played for Herrin during that era. Last year as a rookie, Trevor Pryce was a member of the Denver Broncos Super Bowl Championship team. Under Herrin's tutelage at Clemson, Pryce led the Tigers in tackles for loss and sacks in 1996.

In his previous 13 seasons with Clemson, Herrin has coached in eight bowl games, been a part of six top 20 seasons and four ACC titles. Clemson has had at least one all-conference player coached by Herrin in 12 of the 13 years he has been with the program.

Herrin and his wife Shirley have a son, Deke, who is currently a student at Clemson and a member of the football team.

STEVE ENSMINGER
Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Steve Ensminger enters his second season as Clemson's offensive coordinator. In his first year, Ensminger directed the Tiger offense in establishing 15 school single season records in the passing game on a team and individual basis, included in the marks were school bests for passing yardage, completion percentage, and completions.

Nealon Greene ranked 19th in the nation in passing efficiency, highest ranking by a Clemson player in 14 years.

Ensminger came to Clemson after a three-year stint at Texas A&M and is now in his 11th year as an offensive coordinator.

While at Texas A&M, his Aggie offense averaged 404 yards per game in 1996 and it featured a balanced attack of 230 yards rushing and 174 passing.

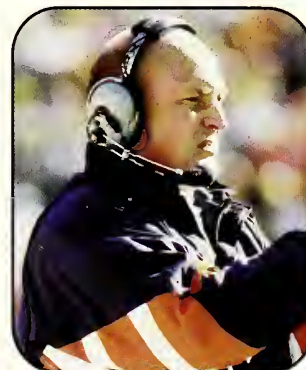

Ensminger is a native of Baton Rouge, LA and played for hometown LSU from 1976-79 as quarterback where he lettered all four years. He was the MVP of the LSU team in 1979 and still holds two LSU passing records: most touchdowns in a game (4) and longest touchdown pass play (82 yards).

The 39-year-old has coached at Nicholls State (Wide Receivers, 1981-83), McNeese State (Quarterbacks/Wide Receivers, 1984-87), Louisiana Tech (Offensive Coordinator, 1988-90), Georgia (passing game Coordinator/Quarterbacks, 1991-93), and Texas A&M (Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks, 1994-96).

Ensminger was a significant reason Georgia quarterback Eric Zeier set 61 school and 11 SEC passing records between 1991-93. Georgia ranked ninth in the nation in total offense in 1992 with a 450.4 yards per game average. The team was 10th in the country in scoring with 32 points per game.

Ensminger is married to the former Amy Marie Gonzales and they have three children: Krystalin, Steve, and Brittany Rose.

REGGIE HERRING
Defensive Coor./Inside Linebackers

Reggie Herring enters the 1998 season, his fifth at Clemson, as the inside linebackers coach and is in his second year performing the duties of defensive coordinator.

In his first year as Clemson defensive coordinator the Tigers ranked 16th in the nation in total defense, sixth in rushing defense and 18th in scoring defense. Herring coached Anthony Simmons each of the last three seasons at Clemson. Simmons, a three-time All-American, was a first-round pick of the Seattle Seahawks in the 1998 NFL draft.

Herring himself was an outstanding player during his days as a linebacker at Florida State. He graduated from Florida State with a B.S. in criminology in 1981, but before graduating he was a three-year starter for the Seminoles and was voted an AP All-American in 1980. Florida State posted a 38-6 record in his four years and made three bowl trips. He played on three Seminole teams that finished the season with a top 15 AP ranking, including a number-six finish in 1979 and a number-five finish in 1980. Those were the first two top 10 finishes in the Bobby Bowden era at FSU.

Herring was inducted into the Florida State Hall of Fame in 1989. He combined with current Clemson wide receivers coach Rick Stockstill to lead the Seminoles to the 1981 Orange Bowl, a narrow defeat against Oklahoma. Herring also displayed leadership skills during his playing days as he served as the team captain in 1980.

As a coach, Herring has been a part of successful programs at Oklahoma State, Auburn, TCU and now Clemson.

Since 1977, Herring has participated in college football as either a player or a coach. Since that year he has been a part of 16 bowl teams, three as a player and 13 as a coach, including four bowl games for the Tigers, the 1993 Peach, the 1996 Gator, the 1996 and 1998 Peach.

Herring is married to the former Lisa Ward of Griffin, GA. The couple has one daughter Caroline, and one son, Adam.

DAVID BIBEE
Defensive Backs

David Bibee is in his second year at Clemson, and is coaching his second different position. This season Bibee takes over the secondary, perhaps the most talented area on the Clemson team with preseason All-American Antwan Edwards. Bibee is no stranger to the secondary as he has coached that aspect of the defense at six different schools during his career.

Last year he coached Clemson outside linebackers, a group that helped the Tigers rank sixth in the nation in rushing defense and 16th in total defense.

The 1998 season marks Bibee's 19th year of coaching college football. He has 11 years experience as an assistant head coach.

Bibee played football at Tennessee and was a member of the 1973 Gator Bowl and 1974 Liberty Bowl teams. During two of his playing seasons he was a teammate of Tiger Head Coach Tommy West. He earned a B.S. in Health Education from Tennessee in 1977.

He began his coaching career with the Volunteers as a graduate assistant coach in 1976. He then spent the 1977 season at his prep alma mater, Bristol's Tennessee High School, before moving on to Mississippi for one campaign as co-head coach of the junior varsity squad in 1978. Following his stay at Mississippi, Bibee had coaching stints at North Alabama, Middle Tennessee State, Austin Peay, Appalachian State and South Carolina.

During his six years at Appalachian State, the Mountaineers won two Southern Conference championships and twice led the nation in turnover margin.

Bibee left Appalachian State in 1989 to become assistant head coach and secondary coach at South Carolina. After the 1993 season, he went into private business before returning to college football as Tennessee Tech's secondary coach and recruiting coordinator in 1996.

A native of Bristol, TN, Bibee is married to the former Lisa Carter. The couple has three daughters, twins, Ashlee and Allison, and Lindsay.

RICH BISACCIA
Running Backs

Clemson has been on a record pace in terms of rushing offense since Rich Bisaccia came to Clemson in December of 1993. Each of the last three years Clemson has finished first or second in the ACC in rushing, including a number-four national finish in 1995 when Clemson averaged 260 yards per game.

Under Bisaccia, tailback Raymond Priestler set the Clemson all-time records for single game rushing yards, 263, rushing yards in a season, 1,345, and most rushing yards in a career with 3,966. He was the ACC rushing champion in 1995. In all, Priestler established 18 Clemson rushing records during his career under Bisaccia.

Bisaccia wears many hats at Clemson as he also handles the special teams and serves as the recruiting coordinator. His special teams unit was the only one in the nation to have an individual rank in the top 25 in field goals, punting, punt returns, and kickoff returns in 1995.

A year ago Clemson ranked 15th in the nation in kickoff returns and 39th in punt returns. The Tigers had three blocked punts in the Peach Bowl to set a school record. Clemson also led the ACC in field goals (20-27) in 1997.

Bisaccia graduated from New Fairfield High School in New Fairfield, CT. He earned his degree in health and physical education from Yankton College in 1983. While at Yankton College, Bisaccia was a four-year starter and the team captain from 1979-82. The Philadelphia Stars of the USFL signed him as a free agent in 1983.

Bisaccia's first coaching job was as the offensive coordinator at Wayne State (NE) in 1983. After five years at Wayne State, he moved to South Carolina for a six-year career. In 1989, Bisaccia became the volunteer assistant coach for defensive ends at South Carolina. In 1991, he was named the tight ends coach, then was promoted to running backs coach and special teams coach at South Carolina in 1992. He held that role for the 1992 and 1993 seasons. Clemson came calling in December of 1993 and named Bisaccia as its running backs coach, and in charge of special teams and the recruiting process.

Bisaccia married the former Jeanne Jones. The native of Yonkers, NY and his wife have four children: Michele, Elizabeth, Madeline, and Richard Oakley.

BRICK HALEY
Outside Linebackers

Andrea "Brick" Haley takes over the outside linebacker coaching duties in his first season with the Tiger program.

Haley will coach perhaps the most famous position in contemporary Clemson football history. The Tigers have had many outside linebackers move on to the NFL in the decade of the 1990s, including Levon Kirkland an All-Pro for the Pittsburgh Steelers and Wayne Simmons, a starter for the Green Bay Packers 1996 Super Bowl Champions.

Haley himself has a history of recruiting and coaching players who have gone on to the NFL. The list of players Haley has coached include Jeff Gooch, a starter with the Tampa Bay Bucs in 1997, and Pratt Lyons, a starter with the Tennessee Oilers. Reggie Lowe, who signed with the Seattle Seahawks out of Troy State, and Donnell Gilyard, who played with the New York Giants are two more Haley protégés. Michael Swift of the Carolina Panthers, and Kurt Pointer of the Pittsburgh Steelers were both recruited to Austin Peay by Haley.

Haley, a native of Gadsden, AL, attended Alabama A&M. He graduated from A&M in 1989 after playing for the Bulldogs for four seasons. There he was a Division II All-America inside linebacker in 1987 and 1988. Haley earned a bachelor of science in health and physical education with a minor in telecommunication.

His coaching career began in 1989 when he was a student assistant coach at Alabama A&M. The next year, he coached tight ends and coordinated the punt and punt return teams at Enterprise High School in Enterprise, AL.

In 1991, he began his four-year stay at Austin Peay State. After three years with the Troy State program, Haley served as outside linebackers coach at Houston in 1997 before arriving in Tigertown.

Haley, a native of Gadsden, AL, is married to the former Tina Delaine of Clayton, NC.

JOHN LATINA
Centers and Guards

John Latina is in his fifth season at Clemson, as the offensive centers and guards coach. Since taking over the most inexperienced offensive line in Clemson history in 1994, the unit has steadily improved and helped rewrite many of Clemson's individual and team offensive records.

The 1997 line was an integral part of a Clemson team that established six team records in offensive categories. Each of the last three years Clemson has been first or second in the ACC in rushing and Latina's line is a big reason Raymond Priester set the Clemson career rushing record in just three seasons.

Latina received four letters as an offensive lineman at Virginia Tech from 1975-78 and played in Death Valley for the Hokies in 1978. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1979.

Latina's coaching career began immediately after his playing days were over. In 1979, he was an assistant coach at his alma mater in Blacksburg. He then moved to Pittsburgh for the 1982 season where he worked with an outstanding Panther team quarterbacked by Dan Marino.

In 1983, Latina was named as the offensive line coach at Temple. Following his stay at Temple, Latina went out west to Manhattan, KS, to coach Kansas State. His offensive line helped to lead the Wildcats in 1993 to the Big Eight title in passing, averaging 245 yards per game. In 1991, Kansas State set a school record with 4,231 yards in total offense, including 1,756 yards rushing, the most by a Kansas State team in 10 years.

Latina arrived at Clemson as the offensive line coach in December of 1993. He has already coached the Tigers in four bowl games, the 1993 Peach, the 1996 Gator, the 1996 and 1998 Peach Bowl.

Latina and his wife, the former Michele Veltre, have two sons John Jr. and Michael.

MAC McWHORTER
Tight Ends and Tackles

Mac McWhorter enters his third year at Clemson as the offensive tackles and tight ends coach. McWhorter, 48, and a native of Atlanta, GA, shares the duties of the offensive line with coach John Latina. McWhorter deserves much of the credit for Jim Bundren's 1997 All-America season.

Bundren was a two-time All-ACC choice on the field and in the classroom under McWhorter. The Tigers led the ACC in rushing in 1996 and ranked second in 1997 and McWhorter's work with the line had much to do with an offense that showed steady improvement.

McWhorter spent five years as the offensive line coach at Georgia before coming to Clemson. During his five years in Athens the Bulldogs set school records in many categories including a record 25 touchdown passes and 5,135 yards of total offense in 1994.

He was a three-year letter-winner at Georgia as an offensive player. As a player, McWhorter had success both on and off the field, as he was an All-Academic Southeastern Conference performer in 1972 and 1973 and owned the highest grade point average on the Georgia football team in 1973.

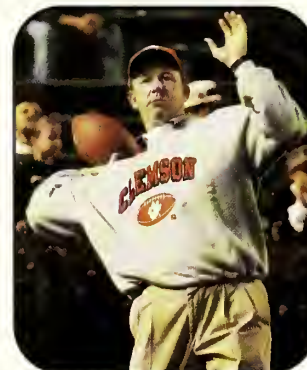

McWhorter began his coaching career as an assistant coach on the high school level. He was the head coach at Villa Rica High in Georgia in 1979, where he was named Carroll County Coach-of-the Year.

McWhorter jumped to the college ranks in 1980, when he was named to the Georgia Tech coaching staff. Since joining the college coaching profession at Georgia Tech, he has had coaching stints at Alabama, West Georgia, Duke, Georgia and Clemson.

Altogether McWhorter has coached in eight bowls during his 18-year coaching career.

McWhorter and wife Rebecca have three children: Kasay, Katie, and Mac.

RICK STOCKSTILL
Wide Receivers

Rick Stockstill is in his 10th consecutive season at Clemson as an assistant coach. He has experience as a wide receivers and quarterbacks coach at Clemson. His contributions in terms of on-field coaching and recruiting are significant reasons Clemson has been to bowl games in seven of his nine seasons with the program.

Stockstill has had a positive effect on the Clemson passing game over the years. In 1997, his receiving corps set school records for receptions and reception yardage. Leading the way was Biletnikoff Award semifinalist Tony Horne, who had a record 70 receptions and record tying eight touchdowns.

Stockstill graduated from Fernandina Beach High School in Fernandina Beach, FL, in 1977. After graduating from Florida State in 1982 with a B.S. degree in physical education, he immediately went into coaching.

As a member of Bobby Bowden's first recruiting class, Stockstill was the starting quarterback on a pair of Orange Bowl teams, a pair of top 10 rankings, and was the team captain in 1981.

Although Stockstill never played a game in Death Valley, his brother, Jeff, played for the Tigers from 1979-82 and was a key reserve on the national championship team.

Before coming to Clemson, Stockstill was an assistant coach at Bethune Cookman (1983-84) and Central Florida (1985-88).

In his first year (1989) as quarterbacks coach at Clemson, he helped lead Clemson to a single-season record for completion percentage (60%). In 1991, the offense led by DeChane Cameron, the all-time winningest quarterback in Clemson history in terms of percentage, led the Atlantic Coast Conference in total offense. He also co-coordinated the #6 offense in Clemson history in 1995.

Stockstill is married to the former Sara Fleischman. The couple has one son, Brent, and one daughter, Emily.

The Chemistry of New Ideas

Running Down the Hill

What has been described as, "the most exciting 25 seconds in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint," actually started out as a matter-of-fact entrance, mainly because of necessity.

The first 20,000 seats in Clemson Memorial Stadium were built and ready for use before the 1942 season. Less than a year before Pearl Harbor was bombed and the United States was at war.

The shortest entry into the stadium was a walk down Williamson Road from Fike Field House's dressing rooms to a gate at the top of the hill behind the east end zone. There were no dressing facilities in the west end zone—only a big clock where the hands turned, and a scoreboard, which was operated by hand.

The team would dress at Fike, walk down Williamson Road, come in the gate underneath where the big scoreboard now stands and jog down the hill for its warmup exercises. There was no fanfare, no cannon shot fired, no tiger paw flag, no Tiger Rag played...just the team making its entrance and lining up to do the side straddle hop.

That's pretty much the way things went for the next 25 years.

Either in 1964 or 1965, S.C. Jones, a member of the Clemson class of 1919, made a trip to California. He stopped at a spot in Death Valley, CA, and picked up this white flint rock. He presented it to Coach Frank Howard as being from Death Valley, CA, to Death Valley, South Carolina."

The rock laid on the floor in

Howard's office in Fike for a year or more. One day Howard was cleaning up his office and he told Gene Willimon, who was the executive secretary of IPTAY, to, "take this rock and throw it over the fence, or out in the ditch...do something with it, but get it out of my office."

Willimon didn't think that was the way a rock should be treated. After all, it had been brought 3000 miles by a very sincere Tiger fan.

By the mid-sixties, Memorial Stadium was pretty well living up to its moniker, Death Valley, because of the number of victories that had been recorded there. Actually, the name was first used by the late Lonnie McMillian, head coach at Presbyterian College in Clinton in the 1940s.

McMillian and the other Blue Hose coaches before him used to open the season each year by coming to Clemson. Seldom scoring (24 shut outs in 39 games) and with only three wins and four ties to show for it, his teams were getting killed by the Tigers regularly. In 1948 McMillian made the comment to the press that he was taking his team to play Clemson in Death Valley.

When Hootie Ingram succeeded Howard as head coach prior to the 1970 season, Ingram decided that the team would make its final entrance on the field out of the dressing room in the west end zone. In all home games in 1970 and 1971 and the first four of 1972 when the Tigers did not run down the hill, their record was 6-9. The team decided it wanted to come down the hill once prior to the South Carolina game in 1972. The result, in a cold, freezing rain, was a 7-6 victory when Jimmy Williamson knocked down a two-point conversion attempt which preserved the win.

The Tigers have made the entrance for every home game since 1942, except for the seasons mentioned above—261 times heading into the 1998 season.

After Clemson's final warm-up, the team goes back into its dressing room under the west end zone stands for final game instructions. About 10 minutes before kickoff the team boards two buses, rides around behind the north stands to the east end zone and debarks to the top of the hill behind Howard's Rock.

At the appointed time, the cannon booms and led by a high-flying tiger paw flag, the band forms two lines for the team to run between and strikes up 'Tiger Rag'...The frenzy starts in all sincerity...and usually lasts two and a half to three hours.

It is a tradition that has inspired Clemson players for many years.

An occasional reference to Memorial stadium by that name could be heard for the next three or four years, but when Howard started calling it 'Death Valley' in the 1950's, the name took off like wild-fire. The Tigers celebrated the 50th season in the 'valley' in 1991.

But getting back to Howard's rock.

The rock was mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill. It was unveiled September 24, 1966, on a day when Clemson played Virginia. The Tigers were down 18 points with 17 minutes to play and came back to win (40-35) on a 65-yard pass play from Jimmy Addison to Jack Jackson in the fourth period. That was quite a spectacular debut for that rock.

The team members started rubbing the rock prior to running down the hill September 23, 1967, a day when Clemson defeated Wake Forest, 23-6. Prior to running down the hill that day, Howard told his players: "If you're going to give me 110 percent, you can rub that rock. If you're not, keep your filthy hands off it." Howard told of the incident the next day on his Sunday television show and the story became legend.

THE NAME SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

Clemson Traditions

Death Valley

Name synonymous with Clemson Memorial Stadium. The Stadium was dubbed this affectionate title by the late Lonnie McMillian, a former coach at Presbyterian College in Clinton, SC. He used to take his teams to play at Clemson, and they rarely scored, never mind gained a victory. Once he told the writers he was going to play Clemson up at "Death Valley" because his teams always got killed. It stuck somewhat, but when Frank Howard started calling it that in the 50s, the term really caught on. It is now in its 57th year.

Many people think the name is derived from the fact that there rests a cemetery outside the fence on the press box side of the stadium. But, although it would make sense, the name was first coined by McMillian.

First Friday Parade

The Clemson football season kicks off each year with the annual First Friday Parade. The once a year event takes place on the Friday afternoon prior to the first home football game. Floats from various fraternities and sororities and other campus organizations are represented in the parade that rolls down highway 93 in front of the President's house in Clemson. The parade culminates at the Amphitheater in the middle of campus where the first Pep Rally of the year takes place.

The Grand Marshall of the Parade is featured at the Pep Rally. Recent Grand Marshalls have ranged from former PGA professional Dillard Pruitt, to College Football Hall of Fame legends Jess Neely and Frank Howard, to noted television announcers Brent Musberger and Ara Parseghian.

Homecoming

Clemson holds a classic homecoming every year. Displays by fraternities and sororities that are months in the making, are built on Bowman Field the week prior to Homecoming weekend. It is an event that draws alumni and friends of Clemson from all over the country.

The Friday evening prior to the game, Tigerama is held in Death Valley, which is an event that attracts over 35,000 fans. It is widely known as the largest pep rally in the world. The Homecoming Queen and her court are presented in addition to Homecoming skits, a pep rally, and a large and loud fireworks display.

The first homecoming game played at Clemson took place on September 30, 1922 when Clemson met Centre. Clemson has a 53-18-3 record on Homecoming games over the years, a .736 winning percentage, and has outscored the opposition 1,555-976 in those previous 74 games. The average margin of victory is 21 to 13. Clemson has been especially successful on Homecoming in recent years, posting a 23-2-2 record since 1970.

Orange Pants

The tradition of the Clemson team wearing orange pants is new according to tradition standards. The Tigers first wore the all orange uniform for the final game of the 1980 season against South Carolina. Clemson upset the 14th ranked Gamecocks and Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers, 27-6. The victory set the stage for Clemson's National Championship run of 1981.

Overall, Clemson is 31-9 in orange pants since that 1980 game, including an 18-2 record in games played in the month of November. The Tigers had an eight-game winning streak in orange pants snapped in the 1996 Peach Bowl against Louisiana State. Clemson has nine wins over top 20 opponents when wearing orange pants, including the 22-15 National Championship clinching win over Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl.

Rock, Howard's

When the Clemson team gathers to run down "The Hill", the players first rub Howard's Rock because of the mystical powers it is supposed to give Clemson players. The rock is mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill and was given to Coach Frank Howard by a friend (S.C. Jones '19) who picked it up in Death Valley, CA. The Rock was first placed on the pedestal at the top of the hill on September 24, 1966, for a game Clemson won 40-35 over Virginia. In that game, the Tigers rallied from 18 points down with 17 minutes to play. The team started rubbing the rock for the first game of 1967, a 23-6 win over Wake Forest on September 23, 1967.

Running Down the Hill

One of the most exciting 25 seconds (about 35 seconds when Clemson dresses 120 players for homecoming) in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint. After Clemson's last warm-up, the team retreats to the home dressing room located under the West Stands. At about 12:50 (for normal 1:00 PM game), the team boards two buses and drives around the periphery of the stadium to the east side of the field. After everyone is properly collected, the cannon sounds, Tiger Rag is played, and Clemson charges down the hill (exactly 100 feet top to bottom) and onto the field. It is one of the most celebrated entrances in sport. The Tigers have done it for every game since 1942, except for 1970, 1971, and four games of the 1972 season. In all, the Tigers have run down the hill 261 times heading into 1998.

How in the world did the tradition of running down the hill start? There is no long involved explanation. It used to be the quickest way to get to the field. When the stadium was built in 1942, the football lockerrooms were up the street in Fike Fieldhouse.

When the players were finished getting dressed they used to walk out the front door and walk down the street to "The Hill". Coach Howard continued the tradition when lockerrooms were finally built inside the stadium because Clemson fans used to get so fired up when they gathered at the top of the hill. That's when the buses came into use to spend the trip from the lockerroom to the other side of the stadium.

In 1996, the Clemson University athletic department agreed to have University Netcasting, better known as FANSONLY, post its official athletic website on the world wide web. Since that time, Clemson fans have been able to access up to the minute information on all of Clemson's varsity sports at the internet address www.clemsontigers.com.

This upcoming school year should prove to be another exciting season at clemsontigers.com. In early September the site took on a fresh design. In an effort to give the Clemson site its own unique image, the people at FANSONLY and Clemson have worked over the summer to make the site more appealing to you, the fan. In addition to cosmetic changes at clemsontigers.com there will be some new features.

Some of the highlights for this season from clemsontigers.com are live game stats and live audio coverage for every football game. If you can't make it to the game, don't worry, with our real-time stats and live game coverage you'll be able to follow every single snap from the comforts of your home computer. Our Associated Press wire feed will automatically post the game story minutes after the contest has concluded. In addition to the game recap, fans will be able to check out actual video highlights of the game.

Not only will you have more information than those Monday morning quarterbacks, but you'll have more access than ever before to Clemson football. Fans will be able to hear clips from Tommy West's post-game interviews as well as be able to listen live to the ACC Football Coach's Teleconference every Wednesday throughout the season.

Football isn't the only sport covered by clemsontigers.com; you can get comprehensive coverage on all of Clemson's 19 varsity sports. Check out the latest release on the women's soccer team, view the game recaps from men's soccer, or find your favorite volleyball player's biography. Clemsontigers.com is expanding its coverage of Tiger Olympic sports to include more action photos, audio clips from players and coach's and video highlights.

As the official athletic website for Clemson University athletics, clemsontigers.com is the only place to go for all of your Clemson sports information. From Fans will be able to access the ACC's weekly Football Teleconference on Wednesdays and hear Coach West's comments as well as other coaches from around the ACC.

Stadium Information

SEASON TICKET HOLDERS/OTHER VISITORS:

Season ticket holders and other visitors to the stadium are requested to enter Gates 1, 5, 9, 11, or 13. Persons with top deck tickets must enter the stadium via the ramps, which are located behind the North and South Stands. Ramp entrances are adjacent to Gates 1 and 13 on the South side and Gates 5 and 9 on the North side.

HANDICAPPED: Special entrances have been provided at Gates 1, 5 and 13 for the handicapped.

WILL-CALL: Will-call tickets can be picked up at the ticket office at Gate 9.

PASS-OUT HAND STAMPS: Pass-out hand stamps will be available at Gates 1, 5, 7, 9, 11, and 13 and the top decks. Any person leaving the stadium other than with a team pass must have his or her hands stamped, as well as admittance stub, to be readmitted to the stadium.

Gates 4, 6 and 8 are closed prior to the games and are opened for exit purposes only.

TELEPHONE: Pay telephones are located at the stadium ticket offices at Gates 1, 5, 9, 13, top decks.

PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM: The public address system is intended primarily for spectators' information concerning the game. Please do not request the use of the public address system to make social contacts.

RESTROOMS: Ladies' and men's restrooms are located between the stands and can be reached by exit from portal.

LOST & FOUND: If any article is lost or found, please report it to the Gate 1 or Gate 10 information booths.

CONCESSION STANDS: Concession stands are located beneath all stands and can be reached from any portal.

PROHIBITED ITEMS: The following items are prohibited in Memorial Stadium: umbrellas, folding chairs, chaise lounges, food and beverage containers of any type, alcoholic beverages, thermos jugs, and ice chests.

NOTICE: Solicitation for any purpose is prohibited at an athletic contest in Clemson Memorial Stadium.

EMERGENCIES

First Aid stations are located at the following places: South Side—Under Section J; North Side—Under Section T; North Top Deck—Under Section K; South Top Deck—Under Section E.

Trained nurses are on hand during each game. Should a doctor be needed, ask any usher, who knows the seat location of doctors. Ambulances are located at Gates 1, 5, 8, and 13.

WHAT TO DO IF EMERGENCIES ARISE:

Please step back and give the organized EMS personnel room to work. Well-intentioned attempts to help by untrained persons interfere with the efficiency of the EMS system.

Most emergencies occurring at the stadium result from pre-existing medical conditions. Bring your medical identification card or wear medical identification jewelry.

INSECT STINGS: Common at outdoor events. Treat immediately with ice and seek medical advice. If allergic, carry a kit from your physician with you.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE A HEART ATTACK: The symptoms of a heart attack vary, but the usual warning signs are:

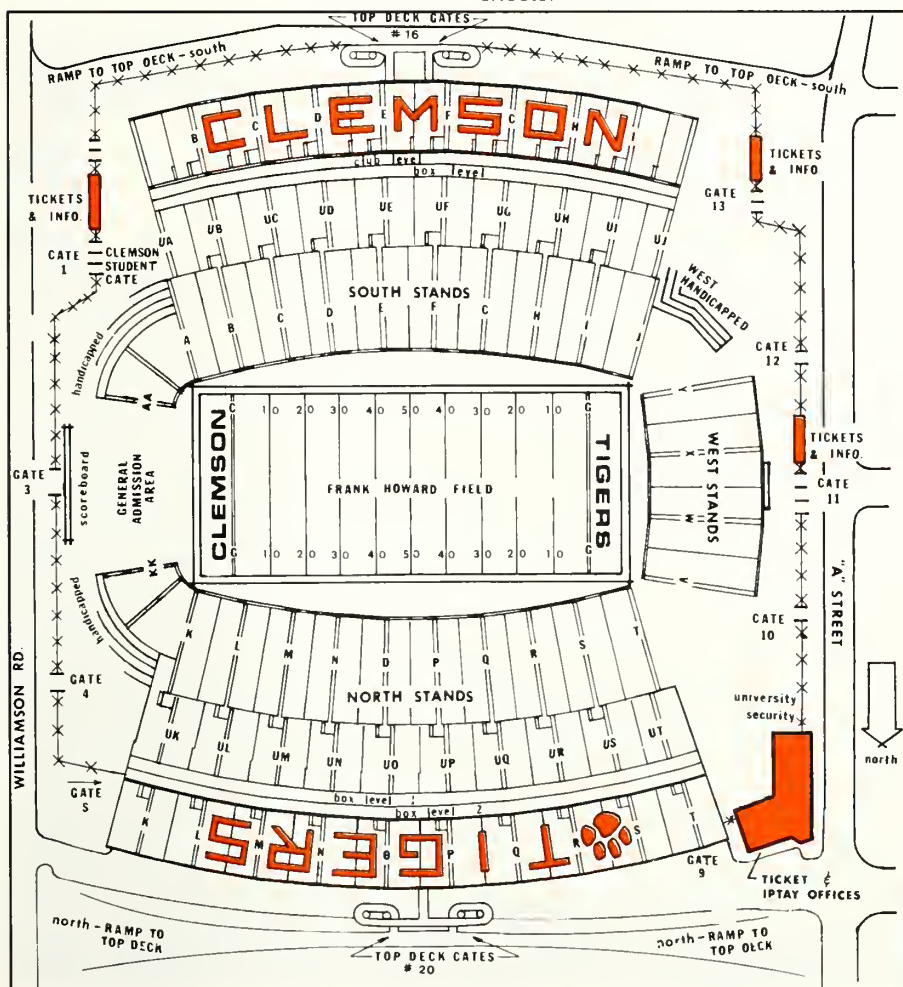

1. Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest lasting for two or more minutes.
2. Pain spreading to the shoulders, neck, jaw, arms, or back.
3. Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea, and/or shortness of breath.

EXPECT A DENIAL: Frequently heart attack victims deny they are having a heart attack. The event is frightening or they don't want the embarrassment of a false alarm. Therefore, they delay getting help by ignoring their symptoms or rationalizing, "It's just indigestion."

New therapies have been developed that can minimize heart damage and save lives if treatment begins within the first few hours of symptom onset. "Time is muscle." Get help or get to a hospital immediately.

EMERGENCY CALLS: Emergency calls are received in the Security Booth.

THE STADIUM EMERGENCY PHONE NUMBER IS (864) 656-2999.

We Do Chicken Right.

IPTAY is widely regarded nationally as the father of Athletic Fundraising. It all started in 1934 and from a private meeting of a small group of Clemson supporters has sprung into an organization that raised a record $9,143,045 last year. The organization plays a major role in ensuring that all 19 of the varsity sports at Clemson are given the maximum amount of scholarships offered by the NCAA.

The organization also has helped finance facilities that contribute to the well-being of student-athletes on and off the field. Vickery Hall is a 27,000 square foot facility that houses the tutoring and advising programs for student-athletes. It is a major reason Clemson student-athletes have had their highest cumulative GPA on record for five consecutive semesters.

While IPTAY is primarily concerned with athletic fundraising, the mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are highly qualified academically. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Fund is presently the largest scholarship endowment of its kind at Clemson, currently helping over 30 students at Clemson.

IPTAY Executive Director George Bennett has continued to keep Clemson among the best in the nation in terms of fund-raising by the establishment of the IPTAY Endowment Program. In April of 1994, he kicked off the beginning of the endowment of positions program at the 85th birthday celebration for former Clemson Coach Frank Howard. The endowments are secure with a $100,000 donation paid over a five-year period.

"This is a chance to broaden the horizons of IPTAY," said Bennett. "It gives an individual or a group of people an opportunity to endow a position that meant something during their college days, or to honor a person at a position. The money being endowed is going to secure our future as the interest is used to carry on our program forever."

The first endowment was for the head football coach position to honor the legendary Frank Howard. Howard coached football at Clemson 39 years, 30 as the head coach. During his tenure the Tigers won 165 games, 100 of which were against conference foes. "Former players and friends of Coach Howard made donations over the cost of attending the celebration program and that was enough for the endowment. Their gifts were a way of permanently thanking Coach Howard for all that he did for Clemson.

"Following Coach Howard's birthday party we began to look for an individual to help us support and promote the program and Bill Hudson's name came up. He was an outstanding player at Clemson who has been equally successful in the business world. We went to him and explained the program and its goals and that we were looking for his leadership to help get the program going, and he accepted."

Hudson, a 1956 graduate, was a three-year letter winner at tackle who played professionally for the Montreal Alouettes, the San Diego Chargers, and the Boston Patriots. He earned Pro Bowl honors in 1962. Mr. Hudson sees this program growing into a large part of Clemson's athletic funding. "When other people see information on the endowment program and learn what it is about this program will grow. Success builds on success. People who are looking to honor a friend or family member now have a great means to do that."

Besides the Hudson's family endowment four other football endowments were made and one manager's position in the first year. Now there are over 50 positions endowed. The goal of the program is to get every position endowed. "From the free safety to the number-three player in women's tennis, we hope to have every position endowed," said Bennett.

"We will likely use the Avenue of Champions as a physical place to honor these people further for the positions they have endowed. That will have plenty of space, so we will be working to have as many endowments across all of our sports.

"The personal satisfaction that they helped Clemson University, specifically the Athletic department, and that they are securing its future are the main reasons for becoming involved."

And with more involvement Clemson will have a very secure future for generations to come.

Strength Training

Clemson fans look forward to seeing tough, hard-nosed football when they come to Death Valley or travel to other schools to watch their Tigers in action. But some of the Tigers' most intense competition and action doesn't take place on autumn Saturday's and it doesn't take place on a field. Take a peek into the Clemson Strength Training Room at almost any time of day, almost any day of the week, at any time of the year, and you will see the Tigers building the foundation for their pursuit of a championship.

Perhaps the most impressive characteristic of the facility is its size. Several years ago, it was enlarged to an astounding 11,000 square feet, making it one of the largest in the nation. Two years ago, it was expanded to 14,000 square feet. The facility boasts two full lines of Nautilus machines and over 12 tons of weights. The large number of machines and free weights allows the weight room to be used by athletes from several other different sports at the same time, without anyone having to wait in line at a particular station.

Within the last year the dumbbell area and leg strength area were expanded and the facility saw the addition of the Austin Leg Drive Machine.

The plush atmosphere provides an interesting contrast to the physical exertion that takes place in the facility. When an athlete enters the etched glass doors, he is greeted by plush, wall-to-wall carpeting, walls lined with mirrors, ceiling fans, and music from a 26-speaker sound system - a worthy backdrop for well over $500,000 worth of state-of-the-art equipment.

Four color television monitors are also positioned throughout the facility. These monitors are used for training and instruction, as Tiger strength coaches film the athletes and work with them on form correction.

The strength training staff spends long hours working around the various schedules of each sport and even takes the facility on the road when the Tiger football team plays in a bowl game.

Recently, the operation of the strength training facility was enhanced by the addition of a new computerized program. Tiger strength coaches are now able to enter all the current strength data on an athlete, and the computer will generate a 10-week conditioning program that will help the athlete reach optimum results.

The 1948 Team

by Bob Bradley and Tim Bourret

Somewhere, Frank Howard is smiling, for today the 1948 Clemson Tigers, his favorite team, will be honored for their perfect season of 50 years ago. The Tigers of 1948 knew where they stood with Howard when they were asked to be the pall bearers at his funeral in 1996.

The 1948 team was one of the most talented in Clemson history, especially when you consider it was a unit with just 37 players on the travel squad. Eight players on this club are in the Clemson Hall of Fame. The team was a perfect 11-0, including a still school record seven wins away from home, and a #11 final Associated Press ranking.

Clemson was one of just three undefeated, untied teams and had the most wins in the nation that year. Michigan and Notre Dame were also undefeated, but neither team played in a bowl game.

It was a club that was dominating on defense (allowing just 76 points), and possessed a precision Single Wing offense that performed in the clutch. Five of the 11 wins were recorded by a touchdown or less, more "close" wins than any team in Clemson history. It might have been the greatest squad in school history in terms of special teams.

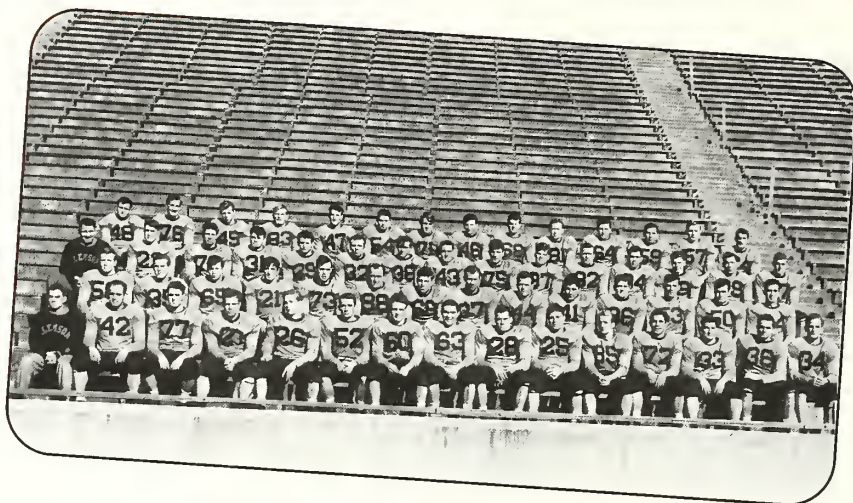

The perfect season of 1948 was as much a surprise to Clemson fans as the perfect season of 1981. Both years the Tigers were coming off mediocre seasons. In 1947 Clemson was just 4-5, and had to win the last three games to do that. In fact, after a five-game losing streak students came to Coach Frank Howard seeking his resignation. He convinced the students the Tigers would win the last three games that season and have a stellar 1948 team. He was right.

"Entering the 1948 season, we didn't think we would be as good a team as the previous year because Henry Walker decided not to come back," recalled Phil Prince, captain of the 1948 Tigers. "He had been our leading receiver the previous year and would have been one of the top players in 1948. He had already earned one degree from Virginia and then got another from Clemson in the spring of 1948. He was offered a job in the textile industry and decided to take it. He went on to become president of the company."

Many teams in recent Clemson history have had a formula that featured talented youth and wise veteran players. According to Prince that was one of the reasons for the success of the 1948 Tigers.

"We had an interesting mixture of seniors and sophomores. The difference in the 1948 team compared to 1947 was the sophomore class. That group of 1948 sophomores was the greatest group of athletes Clemson had in one class up to that point. At the same time, we had some experienced players in the senior class. It just seemed that the leadership of the seniors jelled with the athletic talent of that sophomore class."

Fred Cone, a sophomore in 1948 who is among just four players in the Clemson Ring of Honor, agrees with Prince. "We had a lot of great athletes on that team. Bobby Gage, he could run, he could pass, he did everything. He called the plays, he ran the team, he gave everyone confidence.

"Frank Gillespie, Phil Prince, Gene Moore, they were all great team leaders who set an example for the sophomores. We were lucky to have such a group of leaders.

"We also had an outstanding coaching staff," continued Cone. "Coach Howard was our leader, but the assistants were very good. I remember Goat McMillan drilling us on how to hide the ball when we were practicing the spin for the Single Wing offense. He taught us all the tricks of hiding the ball from the defense."

Prince summarized another important team characteristic. "Vince Lombardi once said, 'To be a successful team, you have to love each other.' We were always there for each other. To go undefeated and untied, we had to stay together. We had a lot of cliff hangers in that season and we had to stay together to pull them out. We didn't have any quit in that team."

THE 1948 SEASON GAME-BY-GAME

Clemson 53, Presbyterian 0 September 25 at Clemson, SC

The Tigers opened the season with their normal destruction of Presbyterian at Death Valley in the first home night game in Clemson history. Frank Howard would give Presbyterian a $25,000 guarantee each year to come to Clemson and they would run their entire athletic budget on that game.

In the weeks leading up to the 1948 season, Presbyterian Head Coach Lonnie McMillian started referring to Clemson Memorial Stadium as Death Valley, the first time that nickname had been applied to the facility.

The Tigers had a balanced attack, as eight different players scored touchdowns, led by Fred Cone who scored twice, and 10 different players had rushing yards, led by Bobby Williams, who had seven rushes for 69 yards.

Clemson threw just eight passes in the game, two each by four different players. Bobby Gage was 2-2 for 60 yards and a touchdown, a 28-yard score to Ray Mathews. According to newspaper accounts, the Clemson line performed with brilliance behind the play of the Southern Conference's top athlete, Frank Gillespie, and center Gene Moore, both Hall of Fame Clemson athletes.

For Cone it was his first game of varsity football involving 11 men on a side. He had played just six-man games in Alabama in high school. To score two touchdowns and be among the top rushers in his first varsity game of football was incredible. He had come to Clemson off a recommendation from Frank Howard's sister, who had said he looked athletic diving into a next door neighbor's pool.

Clemson 6, NC State 0 October 2 at Clemson, SC

The second game has been an important stage of the season in Clemson football history. It was no different in 1948, as Clemson defeated conference rival and favorite NC State in a thrilling defensive game. Fred Cone had a 15-106 yard rushing day, and Ray Mathews added 53 yards on just eight carries, but the Clemson offense had three turnovers. NC State had 215 yards on the ground, but could not penetrate the Clemson endzone.

The only score of the game came on a 90-yard punt return by Bobby Gage in the first quarter, ironically, the only touchdown of the season for the All-America back. "I remember coming to that game from Columbia," said George Bennett, now executive secretary of IPTAY, who was in high school at the time.

"We were listening to the North Carolina/Georgia game on the way to Clemson and Charlie Justice had an 84-yard punt return for a touchdown to win the game for North Carolina (21-14) in Athens. I remember my dad saying, 'I wish Clemson could have a long return for a touchdown like that today.' A couple hours later it happened."

The return started with a fake reverse. Fred Cone came from the left, and Gage faked giving him the ball. A few of the State players followed Cone and when Gage got some late blocking support from Tom Salisbury, he was gone, 90 yards for a score, still the longest punt return by a Clemson player in Death Valley.

Clemson's defense was second in the nation against scoring behind only Michigan in 1948 and it made the difference in this key early season victory. With less than two minutes left NC State drove to the Clemson one yard line, but the line held and kept the Pack off the scoreboard. The Phil Prince blocked a punt late in the game at South Carolina that was a key to the Tigers' win over the Gamecocks. Prince later went on to become Clemson University President.

Pack actually had a couple of cracks from the six-inch-line, but failed to score.

"N.C. State had a couple of chances to score late in that game," recalls Ray Clanton, a starting guard who was in the middle of the line for the fantastic finish. "I remember Phil Prince stopping the NC State runner on the last play."

"On one of those plays, I came up and actually had my hand on the ball at the one-yard line," said Gage. "We pushed the NC State runner back."

The very first play after the Clemson defense held, Cone ran 40 yards off tackle to get the Tigers out of poor field position, allowing Clemson to run out the clock. "You could have driven a chuck-wagon through that hole," said Gage.

"After the game I looked at that goal line where NC State had almost scored," recalled Prince. "You could see the grass had been eliminated where we had dug in trying to prevent them from scoring."

Clemson 21, Mississippi State 7
October 9 at Starkville, MS

Clemson's third straight victory to open the season featured a strong passing attack, unique for the era and for this Clemson team. Gage completed 6-11 passes for 172 yards and two scores. Ray Mathews showed his all-around abilities by recording three receptions for 105 yards, the only 100-yard receiving game for the Tigers in 1948. Mathews also had 49 yards in punt returns and 11 yards rushing.

John Poulos had two catches for 57 yards and joined Mathews in the touchdown reception column. Clemson's first touchdown came on a 15-yard blocked punt return by Tom Salisbury, who was the biggest starting player on the Clemson team at 6-3 and 210 pounds.

Clemson's defense was outstanding against Shorty McWilliams, who had played with Army before World War II. Clemson picked off four passes, including two by Gage. Mississippi State had just six first downs and 175 yards of total offense. This was quite an upset for the Tigers, who were a two-touchdown underdog heading into the contest played at Scott Field.

Clemson 13, South Carolina 7
October 21 at Columbia, SC

Until 1960, Clemson and South Carolina always met at midseason on a Thursday in Columbia, SC. This would be an epic contest, a game that would be a key to the undefeated season. South Carolina scored a touchdown in the first period and held the lead until the fourth period. But, Clemson took advantage of a South Carolina fumble and a blocked punt, to pull out the victory.

Near the end of the final period, Dick Hendley punted to the South Carolina 10 where Bishop Strickland fielded the boot, but fumbled. Oscar Thompson recovered for the Tigers. On the second play of the fourth period, and with the ball on the one-yard line, Fred Cone crashed the line. He was nailed, but had the presence of mind to lateral the ball back to Carol Cox, who scored.

"We had practiced that play so much that I knew where Carol would be on that play. I was stopped and could see I was not going to make it so I pitched it to the left, where Carol would be.

He caught it and scored. I hate to think what Coach Howard would have done if he wasn't there." Jack Miller missed the extra point, however, and South Carolina still led, 7-6.

With just over four minutes remaining, Co-Captain Phil Prince, who would later become Clemson University President, earned his entire four-year scholarship in one play. South Carolina had a fourth-and-two from its 28 yard-line with 4:30 left. Prince rushed through and blocked the punt. It rolled to the 12, where Thompson, who had just recovered a South Carolina fumble at the 10, scooped up the ball and raced in for the score.

Scoop Latimer of the Greenville News described the account in this fashion. "Like an atomic bomb, Prince exploded through the Gamecock line and kicker protection to block Bo Hagan's punt. The ever alert Oscar Thompson, who had been plucking feathers all day like home folks pick a Thanksgiving Turkey, scooped up the ball and broke away from his honorary escort of three mates to cross the goal ahead of 11 dazed Gamecocks."

Prince recalled the importance of coaching on the play. "Coaching paid off in that play. Walter Cox and George Fritts always told me if you are trying to block a kick, you should rush the same way early in the game, then fake that way (late in the game) and go the other. In this situation with South Carolina protecting a one-point lead, I figured he was going to punt the ball toward the wide side of the field, which was toward me.

"I had been rushing outside all day. When they snapped in the ball on this punt, I faked outside and went inside and blocked the punt. The ball hit me on the forearm. The next thing I saw was Oscar picking up the ball and running for a touchdown."

According to legend a Clemson fan, who had been imbibing much of the game, stood up just prior to the blocked punt play and challenged anyone within earshot with a $100 in his hand, "I bet anyone Clemson is going to score on this play." Perhaps the fan had gone to the NC State game and witnessed Bobby Gage's punt return, because this was an unusual bet considering Clemson did not have possession of the ball.

For Howard, it was deja vu. Eighteen years earlier Howard had blocked a punt in the fourth period for Alabama in a game against Vanderbilt. It was returned for a touchdown giving the Crimson Tide a 12-7 victory on the way to an undefeated season.

Clemson 26, Boston College 19
October 29 at Boston, MA

On the heels of such a miraculous emotional victory, Clemson boarded a plane for Boston College. The Eagles had defeated Clemson the previous year in Boston and this game at the old Braves Field would be hotly contested. In fact, Clemson had to withstand a furious Boston College comeback to gain the victory.

"Boston College was one of the biggest teams in the country," said Prince. "Coach Howard used to tell us that when Boston College ran on the gridiron, the field tilted. We averaged just 190 pounds. Coach Howard gave us a pep talk about being smaller, but that we would be quicker and tougher."

Gage was outstanding in every phase of the game. First, he threw three touchdown passes in just 14 attempts, one to Mathews (51 yards), one to John Poulos (12 yards) and one to Bob Hudson (40 yards). He also had 15 rushes for 43 yards, punted five times, had two punt returns for 29 yards and a kickoff return for 19 yards. He even had an interception on defense.

Gage, a native of nearby Anderson, SC, set school records for yards per completion and over his career. He completed just 42 passes in 1948, but they went for 11 touchdowns and 800 yards. No Clemson quarterback in history is near his touchdown pass for every 3.9 completions for the 1948 season.

Gage credited the fine Clemson running game and his outstanding receivers for his efficient passing stats of 1948. "With such a good running game, it opened up the passing game. We had some long throws that year, but sometimes they were short throws and the back turned them into long gains.

"Ray Mathews was probably as complete a back as I have seen. He had speed, and could catch the ball. He was a gifted runner and receiver.

Clemson had 21 interceptions in 1948, still the fifth highest total in school history and three of them came in Boston. The Eagles outgained Clemson 358 to 303, and had 311 passing yards, an incredible total for the 1940s. BC had 18 first downs, eight more than Clemson allowed on average, but the Tigers magic continued.

Both teams had three touchdown passes, but the difference was in rushing, where Clemson had a TD from Fred Cone and outgained the Eagles 171-47.

Clemson 41, Furman 0
November 6 at Clemson, SC

Clemson opened November with a convincing victory over Furman behind a relentless ground attack. Clemson's backfield was known as the "Push-button backfield" and Frank Howard was pushing all the right buttons on this day. Carol Cox had 116 yards rushing in 11 attempts, 40 percent of his yardage for the entire season.

Gage had 12-104 rushing, Mathews 7-92 and Cone 15-91, as Clemson nearly had four players over 100 yards rushing in the same game, an unthinkable accomplishment in any era. The Tigers ground out 448 yards, still the fourth highest single game total in Clemson history. Frank Howard's unit outgained the Paladins 499 to -12 in total offense and held the Paladins to just two first downs.

Clemson University

HISTORY

Thomas Green Clemson believed that South Carolina needed an institution of higher education dedicated to science and agriculture. With his belief came the foundation that was laid for Clemson Agricultural College. On April 6, 1888, Thomas Clemson died, leaving most of his estate to the state of South Carolina with the purpose of establishing a college that would teach scientific agriculture and the mechanical arts to the young people of South Carolina.

The college formally opened its doors in 1893 with an enrollment of 446 students. As an all-male military school, the college quickly became recognized across the nation as an important part of the national system of state universities and land-grant colleges. In 1955 Clemson became a civilian co-educational college. As the school expanded its academic offerings and research pursuits, the state Legislature renamed the college Clemson University in 1964.

Today, Clemson is much more than Thomas Clemson could have ever envisioned. The campus is located on 1400 acres of beautiful rolling hills on what once was the plantation of former U. S. Vice-President John C. Calhoun. Landmarks such as Fort Hill, the former home of the Clemsons and the Calhouns, Tillman with its clocktower, the statue of Thomas Green Clemson and the outdoor amphitheater all help retain the air of tradition.

Brick Haley

by Brett Sowell

If you are ever lucky enough to sit down and talk with Clemson's newest assistant coach Andrea "Brick" Haley, confusion may arise as to where his nickname "Brick" came from. Could it be from a humorous childhood story or perhaps it comes from his strong personal beliefs and convictions?

The answer in fact is a humorous childhood story, but after talking with Brick it is easy for a person to understand why this relatively young coach has already helped several of his players make it to the NFL and is prepared to do the same at Clemson as the Tigers' outside linebackers coach. His road to Clemson has been a long one, one in which the paths of both Haley and the Tigers have crossed once before.

Haley grew up in a small town in Alabama called Gadsden. As a senior at Emma Swanson High School, Haley was a top high school prospect at both running back and linebacker. He got his first taste of Clemson on a recruiting visit in 1983. He would later choose Alabama A&M, a NCAA Division II school in Huntsville, AL.

Why didn't he choose Clemson? Then Clemson coach Danny Ford wanted Haley to play fullback for the Tigers, but Haley knew that was a position that would endure a high amount of punishment in the Clemson offensive scheme. "I told coach, 'a fullback in your offense, what he needs for practice is a helmet, a neck roll and a bottle of aspirin,'" Haley said.

At Alabama A&M, Haley was a stand-out earning All-America status as an inside linebacker in 1987 and 1988. In 1989, he served the Bulldogs football program as a student assistant coach.

After Alabama A&M, Haley had coaching stints at Arkansas, Austin Peay State, Troy State and Houston before coming to Clemson.

The trail of Haley's former players in the NFL began at Austin Peay. There he coached Jeff Gooch, a starter for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1997. At Troy State, Haley helped develop Pratt Lyons, who started for the Tennessee Oilers last season. In addition to Lyons, Reggie Lowe and Donnell Gilyard were two more of Haley's protégés at Troy State that made it to the "next level". Lowe signed with the Seahawks while Gilyard played with the Giants.

When asked about the secret to his coaching success, the modest Haley answered this way, "I really don't know if it is a theory of success, I just think it is how you handle people." Haley continues, "I think every individual is different and you have to deal with their differences. You also have to be fair. I think the kids need to know that you are being fair with them."

As Haley speaks of what he expects from his players, a person begins to understand his core beliefs, his feelings on life and what it takes to be successful.

"From my players, I expect effort, I expect them to listen and to learn. I expect them to be where they are supposed to be when they are supposed to be there. We talk a lot about the little things. I strongly believe the little things carry over into life. If you take care of the little things, everything else will take care of itself. That means being on time, being polite, taking your hat off when you are supposed to and saying yes and no. Do the things you were taught when you were young. If you continue to do those things, I think that is the foundation for success."

The foundation for Haley's success as a child began with his mom. Haley recalls, "My mom was really tough, a disciplinarian when we were growing up as kids. What she said was what she meant. What she told you to do, is what you did."

Now Haley brings those beliefs and feelings to Clemson, a place Haley states is the perfect place for him.

"My impressions of Clemson have not changed since I came here. I have always thought it was a great place. Now that I am here and had the opportunity to be around this staff, this town, and the people that are a part of this program, I have no doubt that this is the place for me. It's a family town, and that's what you're looking for as a coach because you're gone so much. You feel comfortable with your family in a place like Clemson," Haley states.

At Clemson, Haley takes over one of the most famous positions in contemporary Clemson football history. In the decade of the 1990s, the Tiger program has produced many outside linebackers that have found work in the NFL. Included in this list of course is Levon Kirkland, an All-Pro with the Pittsburgh Steelers, and Wayne Simmons, a starter on the Green Bay Packers' 1996 Super Bowl Championship team.

With Haley's understanding of what it takes to be successful in life, coupled with his own experiences of developing NFL talent, the Clemson linebacker tradition should be in good hands.

So where does the name Brick come from anyway?

"I got the name from one of my buddies growing up. We were playing a pick-up game of football. I caught a touchdown pass and as I was catching the ball I fell to the ground. There was a cement block where I fell. When I fell, I hit my head on it. I got up and celebrated the touchdown not realizing I was hurt. Everybody was wondering, 'where is all the blood coming from?' We looked down at the block and a chunk of it was missing. Evidently I knocked it loose when I fell on it. That is where the name Brick came from."

The name has stuck ever since that day and Haley says, "I don't even know anybody that knows my real name."

With his record of success and a name like Brick, Clemson fans can rest assure that Haley will build on the Clemson linebacker foundation that has preceded him.

Brick Haley takes over one of the most storied positions in Clemson history, the outside linebackers position.

1997-98 Sports Year in Review

Overall Sports Notes

•Clemson was one of just three schools nationally to have a team in a bowl game, the NCAA men's and women's basketball tournaments and the NCAA baseball tournament in 1997-98. North Carolina, and Washington were the only other schools to pull off the major sport quadruple.

•This was the third straight year Clemson achieved the major sport quadruple, the only school in the nation that can make that claim.

•Both of Clemson's soccer teams advanced to the Final Eight of their respective NCAA Tournaments, something only UCLA could also claim.

•Ten of a possible 12 sports received team bids to NCAA postseason events. Sixteen of the 18 Clemson athletic teams had representation in postseason play.

•Clemson had an All-ACC athlete in 17 of its 18 sports.

•Seven Clemson teams were ranked in the final top 20 of their respective sports rankings.

•Clemson finished 25th in the final Sears Director's Cup rankings, Clemson's highest finish since 1993-94 when the Tigers were 16th in the national all-sports poll.

•The Clemson sports program won four ACC championships, including two by the men's track program (indoor and outdoor). Volleyball won its first ACC championship in history, while golf won the conference tournament for the second straight year.

•Clemson had a very successful season against state rival South Carolina. Clemson posted an overall mark of 9-4 versus the Gamecocks, including a perfect 5-0 record in fall sports, and a combined 3-0 in men's basketball, women's basketball and baseball. Clemson defeated South Carolina in men's basketball for the fourth straight year and the football victory in Columbia gave Clemson five straight wins in the capitol city.

Team Accomplishments

•The Clemson football team advanced to a bowl game for the third consecutive year, one of 17 schools nationally who can make that claim. The Tigers set six team records in terms of passing offense and individuals set 60 records on a season, game and career basis in 1997. The regular season concluded with a bowl clinching victory at South Carolina, 47-21, the highest point total scored by the Tigers against the Gamecocks in 98 seasons.

•The Lady Tiger volleyball team won its first ever ACC Championship. Jolene Hoover's team had perhaps the most impressive victory by any Clemson team last year when it defeated Maryland in four games in the second round of the ACC Tournament. Maryland entered the match having won 35 consecutive matches against ACC teams, was undefeated for the season and ranked 15th in the nation. It was the highest ranked win in Clemson volleyball history. The Lady Tigers went on to win the ACC Tournament with a victory over rival Georgia Tech.

•The men's soccer team advanced to the Final Eight of the NCAA Tournament and finished 12th in the final poll. Along the way Clemson defeated archrival South Carolina twice, including 1-0 in the second round of the NCAA Tournament in Columbia. South Carolina was ranked in the top 10 heading into both games. Thanks to the play of Matt Jordan, Clemson led the ACC in shutouts and saves.

•The Clemson women's soccer team advanced to the Final Eight of the NCAA Tournament, the highest finish in the short history of the program. Tracey Leone's team defeated six top 25 teams over the course of the season, the first time in history any Clemson team in any sport had registered over 40 percent of its wins over ranked teams. Leone's team was 15-7 overall and finished the season ranked 10th in the nation.

•The Lady Tiger basketball team established a school record for victories in a season with a 25-8 overall record. Jim Davis's team also set a school mark for conference wins in a season (12-4). The team advanced to the ACC Tournament finals for the third straight season. Included in the triumphs were victories over every other ACC team and a perfect 13-0 record at home, the first perfect home season in school history. Clemson defeated ACC rivals North Carolina, Virginia and NC State when all three were ranked in the top 10. Clemson, ranked 14th in the country in the final AP poll, and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the 10th time in 11 years under Jim Davis.

•Clemson's men's basketball team advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the third straight year, a first in school history. Along the way Clemson defeated four top 25 teams, including a sixth ranked South Carolina team, the fourth straight year Clemson has beaten the Gamecocks. The Tigers were led by Greg Buckner, who became just the sixth player in ACC history to lead his team in scoring four straight years. The senior finished his career third in Clemson history in scoring.

•The Clemson women's swimming program had a #23 ranking in the final regular season poll and had a 9-4 regular season record. That was the highest victory total among ACC teams. Among the victories against a challenging schedule was a 64-point conquest at South Carolina and a first-place finish at the Auburn Invitational. Auburn was ranked in the top five in the nation all season. The men's swimming program was paced by the performance of Razvan Petcu, who won the ACC championship in the 100 meters freestyle and qualified for the NCAA meet.

•The Clemson golf team was the highest ranked team on the Tiger athletic landscape in 1997-98. Larry Penley's Tigers finished second at the NCAA tournament in Albuquerque, NM, behind National Champion UNLV by just three strokes. It was the closest a Clemson team has come to winning the NCAA golf tournament in terms of ranking and stroke differential. All five Clemson starters had stroke averages under 72.7 a first in Clemson history. The Tigers won the ACC Tournament for the second consecutive year. The NCAA national tournament was Clemson's 17th in a row, the second longest streak of its kind in the country.

•Clemson's baseball team advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the 12th consecutive year. Jack Leggett's Tigers played host to a regional for the fourth time in five years and finished in the final top 25 for the 11th time in 12 years, the fifth in a row under Leggett. The Tigers won two out of three games from Florida State in April, elevating their record to 40-7 and a top three national ranking. Those were two of Clemson's eight wins over top 25 teams in 1998. Matt Padgett was the team's top player with a .376 batting average and he was drafted in the fifth round by the Florida Marlins at season's end. Patrick Boyd won ACC Rookie-of-the-Year honors.

•The Clemson men's track program had two top 11 finishes at the NCAA meets in 1997-98. In March, Clemson finished in a tie for third at the NCAA Indoor championships, while the men were tied for 11th outdoors. Shawn Crawford won the national championship in the 200 meters at the indoor championships. Clemson had nine All-America place finishers at the NCAA outdoor meet, led by Crawford, who was an All-American in

Led by All-ACC performer Sheri Bueter, the Clemson women's soccer team advanced to the NCAA Final Eight, the highest finish in the short history of the program.

Shawn Crawford ran a time of 20.69 in the 200 meters at the NCAA Indoor Championships to claim the national title. He was an All-American in three events at the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

three events. Bob Pollock was named ACC Coach-of-the-Year indoors and outdoors and was the District Coach-of-the-Year for the outdoor season.

•The women's track program changed coaches, but continued a strong success rate. Ron Garner's team finished second at the ACC Indoor meet and second at the ACC Outdoor competition. Four different Lady Tigers earned All-America honors at the NCAA Indoors, helping Clemson to a #33 final national ranking. Clemson had 13 All-ACC performances between the indoor and outdoor seasons.

•Both Clemson tennis teams advanced to the NCAA regionals. The men were led by All-ACC player Bruce Li, while the Lady Tigers were paced by All-ACC performer Catherine Galvin. It was the 17th NCAA Tournament appearance for Chuck Kriese's men's program, while Nancy Harris's team advanced to NCAA Tournament play in her first year at Clemson.

Individual Accomplishments

•Anthony Simmons became just the second three-time All-American and third three-time All-ACC football player in Clemson history. The native of Spartanburg, SC led the ACC in tackles and tackles for loss in leading a Clemson defense that ranked sixth in the nation in rushing defense, 18th in scoring defense. Simmons was a first-team Associated Press All-American, the first AP All-America defensive player from Clemson in 15 years.

•Cindy Stern was first-team All-ACC and All-District III as a sophomore in a record setting 1997-98 season. The middle hitter ranked eighth in the nation in blocks per game and paced the ACC in that category. She established a Clemson single season mark for block assists. This past summer she was chosen for the USA National Team.

•Sara Burkett led Clemson's women's soccer team to its highest finish in history, a 10th-place final ranking and berth in the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament. The junior from Florissant, MO was a second-team All-America midfielder and a Hermann Award finalist. She was named first-team All-ACC for the third straight year, the first Lady Tiger in history to do that and she moved up to second place on Clemson's career points list.

•Matt Jordan was the top goalkeeper in college soccer in 1997-98. He led the ACC in save percentage and shutouts. He was a finalist for the Herman Award (Heisman Trophy of college soccer) and the Missouri Athletic Club Player of the Year. He concluded his career as Clemson's all-time leader in saves.

•Charles Warren was the recipient of the Dave Williams Award, given each year to the top senior player in college golf. Warren established 17 Clemson records in 1997-98, including the season mark for stroke average (71.28). The Clemson graduate also set marks for rounds in the 60s and rounds under par in a season. He won the ACC Championship for the second straight year and finished tied for second at the NCAA National Tournament. He was individual national champion in 1997.

•Shawn Crawford pulled in more hardware than any other Clemson athlete in 1997-98. Foremost among his accomplishments was his national championship in the 200 meters at the NCAA Indoor meet with a time of 20.69. He was an All-American in three events (100m, 200m and 4X100m relay) at the NCAA outdoor competition. He became the first Clemson track athlete since James Trapp in 1992 to earn All-America honors in three different events in one NCAA track meet. The sophomore was third in the outdoor 200 meters and eighth in the outdoor 100 meters. At the conference level, he captured four championships, including the 200 meters both indoors and outdoors. He was named co-MVP of the ACC outdoor meet.

Academic Notes

•Clemson student-athletes posted a 2.69 cumulative GPA for the spring semester of 1997-98, the highest combined GPA on record. The student-athletes were just .05 points away from the Clemson general student body average of 2.74, the closest differential on record. Every Clemson athletic team had at least a 2.3 GPA, also a first.

•All-America offensive tackle Jim Bundren became just the second football player in Clemson history to be first-team All-ACC on the field and first-team Academic All-ACC, twice. Bundren, who started all 47 games at left tackle in his Clemson career, graduated in December, and was a draft choice of the Miami Dolphins.

•Angela Brames won the Marie James Award as a top student-athlete in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Brames was a key player on the Clemson women's soccer team and had another 4.0 year in the classroom.

•Clemson Lady Tiger swimmers Jennifer Mihalik, and Erin Schatz were both honorable mention All-Americans in the pool and first-team academic All-Americans in the classroom as chosen by the Collegiate Swimming Coaches Association.

•Basketball center Tom Wideman was named first-team All-District III on the CoSIDA Academic team for this season. He started the majority of Clemson's games at center for the third straight year, and was on the dean's list in both semesters.

•The Clemson swimming program had another outstanding academic year. Seven of the 17 Clemson student athletes in the Spring Semester who were on the President's List (4.0) were swimmers. The women's swimming team actually led the entire department with 25 on the academic honor roll and had a department best 3.21 GPA for the spring semester.

•Clemson's football and men's basketball teams each posted their second highest semesters in the last 14 years with their academic numbers for the Spring semester. Tommy West's football team had its highest team GPA in 10 semesters. The Clemson men's basketball team was the most improved, jumping half a point from the fall to 2.42. Only a 2.77 in the spring of 1997 is better since 1984.

Charles Warren was the recipient of the Dave Williams Award, given annually to the top senior player in college golf.

imagine

the possibilities

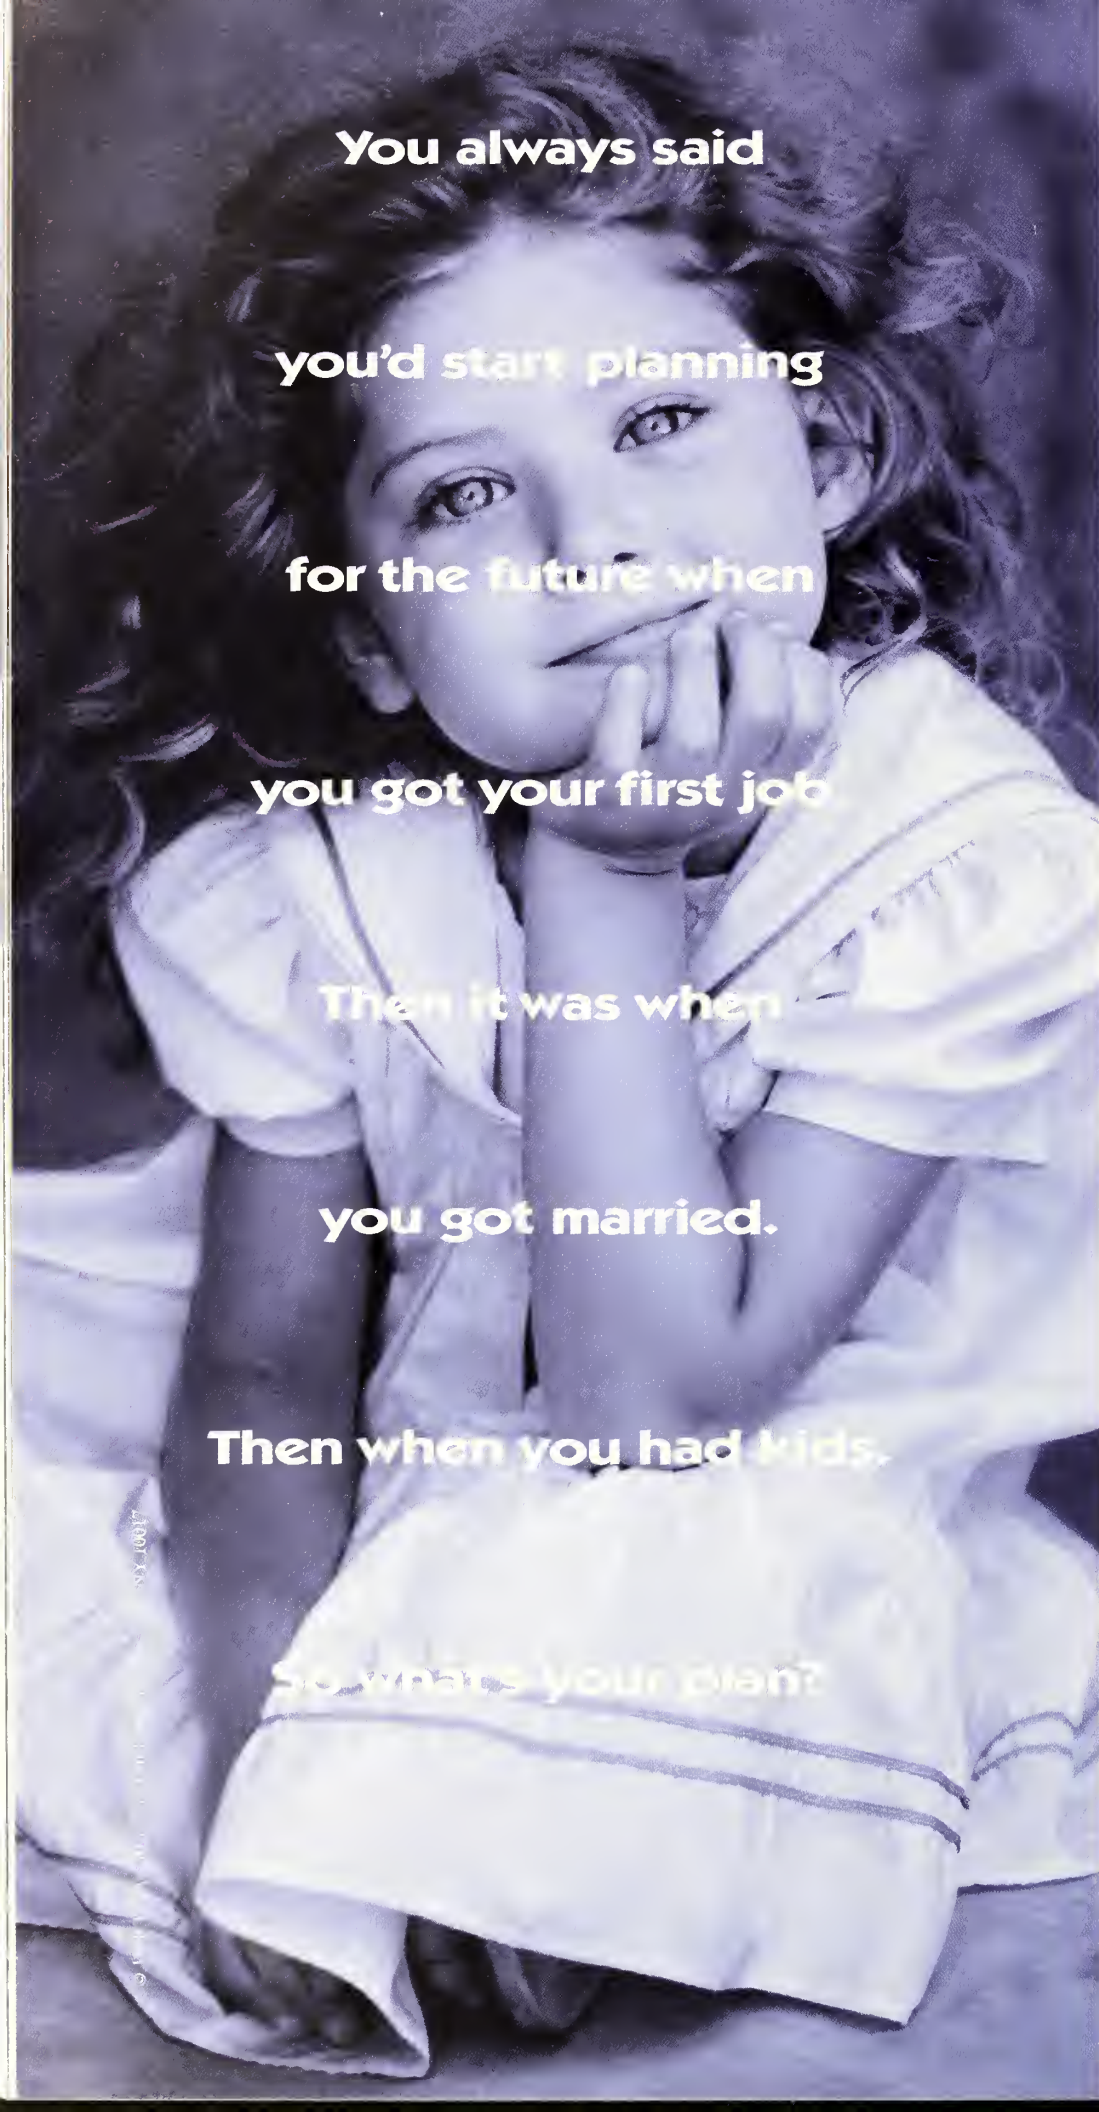

Driving by the South Carolina Botanical Garden up until a few years ago, you saw a big empty field near its entrance. John Kelly, the Garden's director, passed it often, but what he saw there was a visitors center for the Garden.

This small seed of an idea grew to a nationally marketed project resulting in not one, but three resources for Clemson—The Wren House, Bob Campbell Geology Museum, and Betsy Campbell Carriage House and Café.

Following its year as a Southern Living® Showcase Home, The Wren House will be converted to the Fran Hanson Visitors Center.

All that from an empty field.

Matt Butler

by Brett Sowell

A game of leverage, a battle of technique and strength. Those are the words used by senior Matt Butler to describe one of the lesser known and understood aspects of football - the offensive line.

Although playing the offensive line is not as glamorous as many of the other positions on the gridiron, it's importance cannot be understated. Butler has become a student of the game when it comes to life in the trenches. He knows strength alone will not win the battle on those fall afternoons.

"Playing on the line is really physical and at the same time very technical. I think technique is even more important on the offensive line than strength," Butler states.

"You have to be strong to play on the line, but technique gets you a lot further while strength gets you out of jams. If your technique isn't there, you are going to get beat, I don't care how strong you are. You could be strong enough to pick up a building, it's not going to help you. It is a lot of hand placement and a lot of fast work. It's a game of leverage. If you don't get the position to beat the opposing defensive player with leverage, you're going to lose."

The Belmont, NC native understands that when it comes to the O-line, there is more going on there than meets the eye. "It is really hard to see everything that is going on out there on the line. If I was watching from the sidelines, I would not be able to tell what a guard and a tackle were doing.

"The tackle and guard positions are a lot more different than people realize. They are almost like two different kinds of players. It's just like the big difference between a fullback and a tailback in terms of what each player does. One person can be good at one position and not be good at the other."

Butler's understandings of the inner workings of the offensive line has turned into 31 appearances in four seasons as a Tiger (red-shirted in 1994) heading into the 1998 season. Eight of those 31 games were starts during the 1996 campaign. He begins this season listed as a first-team offensive tackle.

The youngest of three children, Butler is a good student as well. He made the 1997-98 ACC academic honor roll in his major of construction science and management.

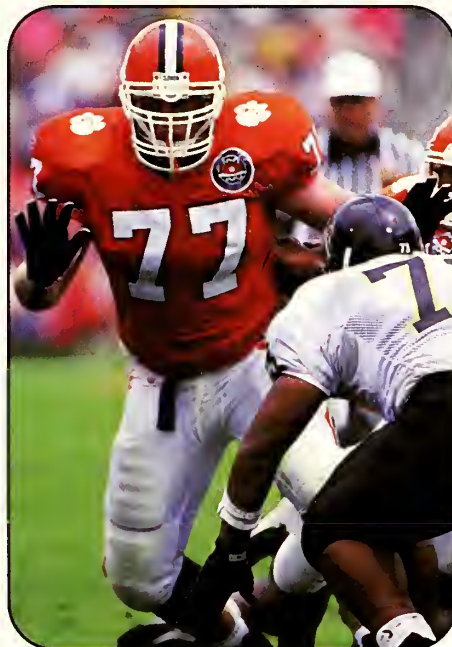

There is no real secret to Butler's success in the classroom, as he explains, "I really enjoy my major a lot. I do all my homework and all of my assignments and that is about it."

Butler not only enjoys his major, but he enjoys talking about it as well. He feels that his major of choice is preparing him to head down many different roads within the construction profession.

"The major teaches you a lot about construction, the materials you need, management and law. A lot of the professors were in construction work and they try to teach us how it is really going to be in the real world. We have a lot of group work and a lot of team oriented type projects."

Butler attributes part of his happiness in the major to his desire to work outdoors. Although, he likes being outside, his career goals don't stop with working out in the elements. "I would like to be in the field at the beginning of my career because I have always wanted to work outside, but someday I would like to own a company of my own," says Butler.

Before coming to Clemson, Butler dilled with several career choices as a youth. One of the choices he recalls is chef. "I wanted to be a chef when I was growing up. My dad cooks and my mom cooks too. I always enjoyed going to the grocery store with them as a little kid."

Today, Butler says he likes to cook, but doesn't know if he has one signature dish that is the best tasting. "I don't know what the best thing is that I cook, you really need to ask the people that are eating it. I cook things like lasagna and fried chicken. I know that sounds like simple stuff, but I just enjoy cooking."

While growing up Butler really never showed an interest in sports until the eighth grade when his coach asked him to come out for the football team. Butler recalls, "The coach came up to me and asked if I wanted to play. I was indifferent, it did not matter to me one way or the other. I started playing and was not very good. I kept trying and got a little bit better as time progressed. I played tackle when I started in eighth grade and moved to guard in high school. In high school, my body started to fill out and I was in a lot better condition."

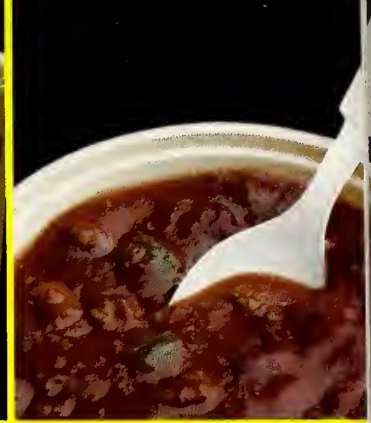

As his body began to mature and his skills improved, Butler's interest to college coaches grew. "When I was a sophomore one of the first letters I received was from Clemson. That was when I began to think I might have a chance to play college football. I didn't really try to position myself to attain that, I just went out and had fun. I always tried hard and did my best. I never really thought about it that much, it never was a big thing for me. It wasn't until the Shrine Bowl that things really got serious when it came to recruiting. I only went on one official visit and that was to Clemson."

Butler admits before that day in eighth grade, he never really had any interest in sports. His mom watches the Braves, his older brother is an avid Washington Redskins fan and his older sister enjoys football. However, Butler's father is the same way his youngest son is.

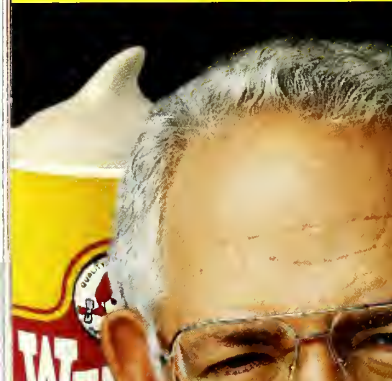

Butler tells, "I never really was a sports fan. I didn't watch sports on TV. My brother always watched sports on television. He grew up a Redskins fan on the pro level and a North Carolina and Michigan fan on the college level. People would ask me who I pulled for and I would tell them that I liked the same teams as my brother. I didn't really have a team. Then they would take it one step further and ask me, 'who my favorite player on the team was?' I didn't know any of their names and I still don't."

His interest in sports has grown a little since those days growing up near Charlotte, but not much. "I watch sports a lot more now than I did in the past, but still not that often. I think I've watched maybe one or two Super Bowls in my life. My mom actually watches more sports than I do."

Despite his lack of interest in sports, Butler has a good understanding of the game when it comes to football and life in the trenches. Whether it's mastering the leverage it takes to stop an opposing defensive lineman or the leverage it takes to hold up a bridge, Matt Butler defines the words "true student".

Future Schedules

With the higher caliber of play in football within the ACC has come an increased demand for ACC games to be televised. In order to give the conference as much exposure as possible, the ACC adopted a policy in 1993 of determining football schedules in December of the year prior to the following football season.

The procedure allows ACC alumni and fans throughout the country to become familiar with ACC institutions, their football programs and student-athletes. More television exposure directly translates into more talented high school football players aware of the high quality of ACC football and correspondingly better athletes enrolling at ACC schools. Finally, higher viewership produces more rights fee dollars from the networks to support each institution's athletics program and the 2,500 student-athletes currently receiving scholarship assistance at ACC institutions.

We apologize for the inconvenience that this policy places on those of you who are making long term plans during the football season. We thank you for your support of Clemson football and the ACC and appreciate your patience.

Here is a look at the Clemson non-conference schedule thru the year 2005. The complete 1999 schedule will be released in December 1998.

Memorial Stadium

In 1991, two very special anniversaries in the Clemson football tradition were observed. Not only did the 1991 season mark the 10th anniversary of Clemson's National Championship season, but it also marked the 50th birthday of the place where the Tigers won six games that season: Memorial Stadium.

In the first 56 years of Memorial Stadium, Clemson has a record of 197-74-7, including a 32-11-1 ledger over the last seven seasons. Clemson had a 16-game unbeaten streak at home between 1990-92 and has a career winning ratio of 72.0 percent.

The stadium has definitely been good to the Tigers who call it home, but the stadium was constructed against the advice of at least one Clemson coach. Just before head coach Jess Neely left for Rice University after the 1939 season, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need".

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing-there were many trees, but luckily there were no

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow. This year Clemson celebrates its 57th year in this outstanding facility.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron went on to become a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced that he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the stadium including one stating that

Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete poured.

Howard says that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid sod on the field," he says. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through.

"I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more week's pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through. After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard says that on the day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 pm and we played at 2:00 pm." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone, "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled-the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to over 80,000 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or at $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years, Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillian. After bringing his P.C. teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillian said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later the name stuck.

On November 16, 1974 the playing surface was named Frank Howard Field for the legendary coach because of his long service and dedication to the University.

Luckily, the stadium wasn't built behind the Y.

Memorial Stadium is the ninth largest on-campus stadium in the United States.

ACC Football

- The ACC had five of the first 15 players and seven of the first 19 taken in the 1998 NFL draft. The seven first-round selections were the second most in league history.
- The ACC has had 15 first-round draft choices in the last two years, the most in a two-year period in conference history, and more than any other conference. The SEC is second to the ACC in first-round picks the last two years with 14, while the Big 12 is third with eight.
- The ACC had 29 players drafted overall in 1998, third highest among conferences. Eight of the nine schools had at least one pick and they went to 23 different NFL teams.
- The ACC has long been a conference with a strong tradition when it comes to linebackers. Four of the ACC's first eight selections were linebackers in 1998 and overall, six ACC linebackers were chosen, including Clemson's Anthony Simmons, who was the 15th pick of the entire draft by the Seattle Seahawks.
- Over the last two years, 11 ACC linebackers have been selected, including seven within the first three rounds.
- The ACC has had at least one first-round selection in 10 consecutive NFL drafts and in 19 of the last 20. Florida State leads in first-round selections with 21, while Clemson is second with 18. The Tigers have had 168 players drafted in history, including five in 1998.
- There were only 13 teams nationally who had at least five selections and the ACC had three of those teams. Florida State, North Carolina and Clemson all had at least five draft choices in 1998.
- For each of the last two years, the ACC placed 11 former players in the NFL Pro Bowl. Only the Pac-10 with 17 selections had more Pro Bowl selections than the ACC in 1997. Clemson has had seven of those 22 ACC Pro Bowl selections over the last two years, including Levon Kirkland and Chester McGlockton, who have gone each of the last two seasons.
- The ACC had a conference record six consensus All-Americans in 1997, tied with the Big 12 for the most consensus All-Americans. The list included Clemson's Anthony Simmons, who was a first-team selection by Associated Press, the Football Coaches Association and Sporting News. The ACC has had 10 consensus first-team All-America selections over the last two seasons.

Clemson's Anthony Simmons was one of the five ACC players picked among the first 15 players selected in the 1998 NFL Draft.

- Overall, the ACC had 16 different players earn, first, second or third-team All-America honors in 1997.
- A total of 154 former players from the nine ACC schools played in 1997 in the NFL during the regular season or post-season.
- The ACC is the nation's second winningest conference in bowl games over the years. The league has a combined .540 winning percentage (79-67-5) in bowl games. Over the last eight years the ACC is the only conference in the country to have each of its member schools play in a bowl game.
- Georgia Tech, Clemson and Florida State all rank among the top 15 schools in the history of the game in bowl winning percentage (given a minimum of 15 appearances).
- In the decade of the 1990s, ACC teams have posted the nation's second best non-conference winning percentage. The ACC is 176-92-4 against non-league foes since 1990.
- The ACC is one of only two conferences to capture three or more national football championships since 1980. Clemson won the title in 1981, while Georgia Tech took the crown in 1990 and Florida State was number-one in 1993. Maryland also won the National Championship in 1953, giving the ACC four different schools who have been number-one at the end of a season.
- The 1997 season marked the ninth straight year that the ACC has had at least four teams participate in bowl games.
- ACC Football has drawn at least 2.2 million fans for seven straight years. ACC teams played to 85 percent of their stadium capacity in 1997.
- Twelve times in the last 18 years an ACC member school has claimed the CFA Academic Achievement Award, which is awarded to the CFA institution with the highest graduation rate among members of its football team.
- Eighty percent of ACC football games involving conference teams are on television. Clemson has averaged 10 televised games per year the last three years to rank among the national leaders in that category. That should be the case again this year. As many as 10 games are expected to be seen on national or regional TV this year, including the Georgia Tech game on ESPN on Thursday, November 12th.

Student-Athlete Enrichment

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all 19 of Clemson's varsity sports have the very best in facilities for training and competition. Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3 million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the Clemson University Athletic Department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and was the first in the country built solely for the all-around education of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000 square -foot building is open throughout the day and into the evening to accommodate the extended schedules of student-athletes.

The mission of the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is to monitor, guide, and encourage student-athletes to fulfill their long term goal, and to achieve their academic and career potential.

Vickery Hall focuses on three primary areas to meet the student-athlete's needs.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Clemson's Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs have provided one of the best academic support and advising programs in the nation.

The proof is in the statistics. A record number of Clemson student-athletes made the academic honor roll in 1997. Nine of Clemson's 13 Sports programs had a higher GPA than the student body average in the 1997 Spring semester. Twenty Clemson football players were on the ACC academic honor roll for the 1996-97 academic year, an all-time record. The Tiger football team had an all-time record GPA for the entire year in 1997-98. The Academic Counselor performs a variety of duties to track academic progress. Their duties include providing assistance in registration and priority scheduling, contacting faculty, personally checking classes, recording information, counseling sessions with student-athletes, providing diagnostic testing, and directing career aspirations.

One of the most prestigious programs that has received recognition essential to the growth of Vickery Hall is the tutorial program.

The Student-Athlete Enrichment Program has been granted a Level 1 certification from the College of Reading and Learning Association, International Tutor Certification Program. Of the 160 programs certified by CRLA, the Clemson Student-Athlete Enrichment Program is one of three student-athlete programs in the country to achieve this distinction.

Having tutor certification enables student-athletes to be provided the highest quality of academic assistance possible. Approximately 80 tutors are hired to provide academic support in the many subject areas offered.

The Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs has recognized the need for students to have access to high-quality computing equipment and has made a commitment to provide the student-athletes at Clemson with the largest computer lab in the country. Located on the first floor of Vickery Hall is the Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs' Microcomputer Laboratory. The lab is open seven days a week, for 16 hours on Monday through Thursday, and limited time on Saturday and Sunday. During exam periods the lab hours are extended.

The lab staff has a full-time computer manager in Steve Coleman, and also graduate students, many of whom are pursuing advanced degrees in computer science. Lab staff members are available for tutoring of any Computer Science course, as well as the many management, engineering and business courses that deal with personal computers.

The Student-Athlete Enrichment Program is committed to providing state-of-the-art computing facilities. New computers have recently been purchased bringing the lab to a state of the art facility. Over 40 computers are available for student-athletes.

All computers are fully connected to the internet allowing for access of computers throughout the world for research and communication.

PERSONAL GROWTH PROGRAM

One of the most important programs that helps student-athletes reach their full potential and engage successfully in this college experience is the Personal Growth and Development Program.

The purpose of this program is to assist the student-athlete in making a successful transition into his/her university and athletic life. These programs will provide the student-athlete the opportunity to examine and explore issues and topics pertaining to his/her values, personal health and wellness, behavior, and goals. The specific topics will encompass both general transition issues and specific athletic issues as well.

CAREER ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The Career Assistance Program provides student-athletes an opportunity to fulfill career aspirations by participating in various career seminars offered by the staff at Vickery Hall. The philosophy of this program is to provide student-athletes with job searching skills and strategies, internships, practicum experience as well as summer employment. These programs are designed to address specific career opportunities through a program that uses each year to gain information on the student-athletes.

By using the resources available to the University, Alumni Center and the Athletic Department, the staff is working to establish a network of businesses, companies, and executives who will help assist with The Summer Employment Assistance Program. The program's main goal is to provide the student-athlete with job experience and a work history, which he or she can apply to his or her academic discipline.

The Career Assistance Program is coordinated from the academic colleges, the Placement Center, and through the Athletic Department contacts. This program is designed to better prepare the student-athlete for full-time employment and focuses on resume writing and interview techniques.

Vickery Hall was the first facility of its kind in the nation when it was constructed in 1991.

Clemson Volleyball

by Amy Moore

As the 1998 season unfolds, the Clemson Tiger volleyball team looks to defend its 1997 ACC Title. In the program's sixth year under the direction of Head Coach Jolene Jordan Hoover, Clemson looks to record its fifth 20-win season and earn its fourth NCAA Tournament bid.

The biggest highlight of 1997 was winning the program's first ACC Title. Head coach Jolene Jordan Hoover stated, "Winning the ACC Championship meant so much to the entire program. This title was not only shared by the 1997 team, but also with past teams who created such a solid foundation and played a part in making the championship a reality."

It seems to be clear that under the direction of Hoover, the Clemson Tiger volleyball team will continue to strive for many more titles, as well as continuing to raise the bar of excellence as Clemson student-athletes.

Hoover's team heads into the 1998 season returning nine letter winners. The team also welcomes four incoming freshmen to the squad and will look to the four returning starters for leadership. With these 13 players, the Tigers are looking to be competitive in non-conference matches and in defending the title in ACC matches.

According to Hoover, this year's strength will be in the middle position. "We are returning senior Stephanie Schulz, junior Cindy Stern, and sophomore Jackie Dalleska in the middle position. We will also be adding freshmen Anne Berki and Meredith Kirtland. We definitely have the most depth that we have ever had in the middle position. Clemson has always had great middle hitters, and this group looks to continue that standard of excellence."

At the helm of the middle hitters is Schulz. She has been a three-year starter for the Tigers and looks to continue her success as a top line middle hitter this year. "We will look for Stephanie to work into a leadership position. She was named ACC Rookie-of-the-Year in 1995, and from that point on other players and coaches have all respected her play. She is looking to have an exceptional senior year and we will be looking forward to watching her help us defend our title."

Stern is also a returning middle player and will bring two years of starting experience, as well as the knowledge she gained from her training with the United States National Team. "Cindy's exposure and training with the national team at the Olympic Training Center has been very exciting for our program. This privilege Cindy earned is something that is going to not only help her, but it will also help take our team to the next level. When she comes back into the gym after competing on a national level, that competitiveness should carry over to the other players. I look for her to bring great leadership qualities to help lift our level of intensity in both practices and matches."

Behind the strength of Schulz and Stern, Dalleska will also look to earn some quality playing time as she did during her freshman year. In addition to Dalleska, Hoover will have the services of two promising freshmen in Berki and Kirtland. Both will provide added depth to the Clemson middle position.

At the outside hitter position, the Tigers return last season's starters, juniors Allison Coday and Skye Frost. Junior veteran Emily Gorla also looks to receive a shot at the starting outside hitter position.

Coday was an AVCA All-District selection last year, and according to Hoover, "Allison's strength is definitely hitting and blocking; but, every year her ball control and defense have improved as a result of all her hard work."

Frost was one of last season's most consistent performers. "Skye is a very complete player for us. She is the team's stabilizer and the glue that holds the six pieces together. Her strength is her passing, defense and shot selection. Skye is a great player, which she proved last year when she was selected to the ACC All-Tournament Team."

The third outside hitter is Gorla. Last season, Gorla saw most of her time in the back row for teammate Alison Coday; however, according to Hoover, this year Gorla will get her chance to play all around. "Emily brings another dimension to the court. She makes everyone take their play up a level with her competitiveness."

The two positions Hoover will have to replace are both on the right side. Graduating setter Michelle Thieke was a three-year starter for the Tigers and became the career record holder for most assists during the 1997 season. Looking to fill Thieke's shoes will be junior Mary Trull and sophomore Missy Kudelka. "The setter position has been a challenge between Mary and Missy. Both have strong attributes; but both are very different individuals. I think it will be interesting to see who will step up and provide the most consistency as a setter. Both athletes have a lot to add to this team and I hope they will both be able to contribute quite a bit."

The other right-side position was vacated by graduating senior Jill Heavey. "We are looking for freshman Jodi Steffes to step in and play on the right-side. She is a left handed hitter with a great attitude and will put up a great block on the right-side. Jodi is a strong ball-handler and a smart offensive player. She should make a smooth transition into the collegiate game. She is certainly someone to look for as an ACC Rookie-of-the-Year candidate."

Filling the shoes of defensive specialist Blythe Gardner will be sophomore Heidi Cooper. "Heidi saw limited time last season, playing behind both Blythe and Emily. She is a great addition to the team and continues to develop at a fast rate."

All in all, the lineup should prove to be very strong, with four returning starters. The Tigers are also extremely deep in many positions, which indicates the bench will be incredibly tough as well.

With one title in place already, the Clemson volleyball team seems to have the ingredients in place to add another championship banner to Jervey Gym in 1998.

Junior Cindy Stern and the Tigers hope to successfully defend the ACC title in 1998.

Jane Robelot, the host of CBS This Morning and 1982 Clemson graduate, poses with members of the Tiger Band. Robelot is holding a copy of the Tiger Band's latest CD, "Eye of the Tiger".

by Kimberly Johnson

Today marks the day of a new beginning—A new beginning for Tiger football. As the rookies take their place in history, the seniors begin an end to their collegiate career, the fans anticipate another exciting season, and the Tiger Band welcomes over 80 new members to their first performance in Death Valley.

The opening pregame performance for today's game will follow in accordance with a Clemson theme of a "Tradition at Every Position." The traditional "Orange Bowl March" will begin, setting the tone for the football fever of 1981 when the Tigers claimed the national championship. Following the march, fans will hear "Tiger Rag" for the first time in the 1998 football season. And of course, a Clemson pregame show is not complete without the famous "Washington Post," "God Bless America," "Star Spangled Banner," and the beautiful sounds of the University Alma Mater.

Another noted tradition in this afternoon's pregame is the dotting of the "i" after the band spells out 'Tigers' in its popular script form. Today, the honor of dotting the "i" is bestowed to Dr. Robert E. McCormick, a professor of economics. Dr. McCormick is the 1998 recipient of the Alumni Master Teacher of the Year Award. This award is given by the Student Alumni Council, the highest award given by students.

The excitement now moves to the hill as the band makes way for "the most exciting 25 seconds in college football." The band divides on both sides of the hill, forms a team tunnel and begins to play the "Orange Bowl March" with fans screaming with excitement and anticipation. The cannon fires and the Tigers come rushing down the hill into Death Valley, as the band performs "Tiger Rag." There is no question as to why so many people consider Clemson's pregame show to be one of the most exciting in college football.

As the pregame show comes to a conclusion the band continues to orchestrate its sounds from its seats located next to the hill. It continues to further excite the crowd with various tunes such as the ever popular "Eye of the Tiger."

This year's first halftime performance is a "Salute to Motown." The Tiger Band will do its rendition of 40 years of R&B and Soul in six of Motown's most popular hits. The first is Stevie Wonder's 1965 release entitled "Uptight." Next are the soulful sounds of three Four Tops songs called "I Can't Help Myself," "Reach Out I'll Be There," and "Baby, I Need Your Loving." Of course, the salute would not be complete without the recognition of the ladies. The classic song "Stop! In the Name of Love" by Diana Ross and The Supremes will also be performed. The final song of this Motown salute will be the upbeat 1980's hit "All Night Long" by Lionel Richie.

Today marks the 50th Anniversary Reunion of the 1949 Gator Bowl Team. This team finished the season with an 11-0 record, one of just three teams with a perfect record in Clemson history. They captured the Southern Conference Championship and defeated the University of Missouri in Jacksonville, FL, by a score of 24-23 at the Gator Bowl.

As another season gets underway and the Clemson tradition is passed down to another generation, the Tiger Band wants all Clemson students, faculty, fans and alumni to keep that Tiger spirit throughout the year. In hopes of this, a Tiger Band CD, "Eye Of The Tiger," has been released to the public. The CD consists of 26 Tiger songs, including such hits as "Tiger Rag," the Clemson Alma Mater, "Sock it To Em," "Orange Bowl March" and "Eye of the Tiger". It can be purchased for $15 plus $2.00 for shipping and handling by contacting the Tiger Band Office at 864-656-3380. All proceeds from the sale of CDs will be used to help finance band scholarships.

Clemson had scoring drives of 60, 46, 88, 92, 64 and 62 yards and the Paladins got to the Clemson 10 once, when the Tigers fumbled. But, Hurricane (their nickname then) pass attempts failed.

One of the reasons for Clemson's offensive prowess on this day was the play of blocking back Bob Martin, who would receive the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the top blocker in the Southern Conference at year's end. "Bob Martin was a co-captain and a team leader," said Gage. "Coach Howard signed about 15 of us from the Shrine Bowl that year and three of us were starters on that 1948 Clemson team, Martin, Ray Clanton and myself."

Clemson 21, Wake Forest 14

November 13 at Wake Forest, NC

Wake Forest would be the only serious Southern Conference challenge left for the Tigers. The Deacons came into the game ranked 19th in the nation, while Clemson had moved up to 10th after its win over Furman, the highest ranking in Clemson history to that point. The Deacons would go on to the Dixie Bowl at season's end.

Gage threw just 10 passes, but two were for touchdowns and he had 130 yards passing overall. Mathews and Thompson caught scoring passes, Thompson's was from 40 yards out, as Gage averaged 13 yards per pass completion. Gage, who played for the Pittsburgh Steelers in the NFL and held the league record for the longest rush from scrimmage for 30 years, also had 72 yards rushing in nine attempts.

Cone gained 84 yards in 24 rushes as Clemson won the rushing battle 223-127 and won the total offense war 353-200. Cone climaxed a 47-yard drive by bucking over from the one for the deciding score.

"That win over Wake Forest might have been the biggest win of the season because they had beaten us six straight times," said Prince. In terms of prestige, the victory made Clemson 4-0 in the Southern Conference and improved the team's rating to an all-time best number-nine in the nation.

Clemson 42, Duquesne 0

November 20 at Clemson, SC

Duquesne was no match for Clemson and Ray Mathews in its final home game of the season. Mathews scored two touchdowns, one rushing and one on a punt return, and threw a 75-yard scoring pass to Oscar Thompson in one of the great all-around performances in Clemson history. He had 75 yards passing, 75 yards rushing, 85 yards in punt returns and 16 yards on interception returns. There is no truth to the rumor that he sold tickets prior to the game.

Clemson held Duquesne to 100 yards of total offense and just eight first downs. Tiger special teams had four punt returns for 140 yards, still sixth most punt return yards in a game in Clemson history.

After the game former Secretary of State James Byrnes, and Governor Strom Thurmond represented Clemson supporters from 27 states in presenting Frank Howard with a brand new Dodge automobile. The gift was in appreciation for the outstanding season.

Clemson 7, Auburn 6

November 27 at Mobile, AL

Auburn was the opponent in the ninth game of the season. The War Eagles were struggling during this season, but they gave the undefeated and ninth-ranked Tigers all they could handle. Clemson trailed 6-0 late in the fourth period when the Tigers finally put together a drive that culminated in a touchdown by Mathews.

Mathews had set up the final drive when he stole the ball from Jocko Norton on Auburn's 47-yard line. He then passed 24 yards to Oscar Thompson, which set up the TD. Jack Miller's extra point was the final margin of victory.

"On the touchdown play, Gage and Mathews switched positions," said Clanton. "Mathews was a bit more sure footed in the slippery sod, so he carried the ball on the touchdown play. You have to give a lot of credit to Jack Miller's extra point and Jim Miller's hold because the field was in such bad shape from the rain."

Cone and Mathews combined for 109 yards rushing on the day, but Clemson gained just 187 yards of total offense. As it had all season, the Clemson defense forced turnovers, five altogether, and came away with the victory despite being outgained by 73 yards. The game was played in a downpour and the slippery conditions evened the game as the terrain made it difficult for Clemson's "Push-button Backfield."

Clemson 20, Citadel 0

December 4 at Charleston, SC

Defense was the key for Clemson in 1948 and it was never as dominant as it was at the Citadel on December 4. The Citadel failed to gain a first down, the only recorded time in the modern era that a Clemson opponent failed to get a first down. The Citadel was 0-7 passing and had just 29 yards rushing, as Clemson outgained the Bulldogs by 372-29.

Mathews had two more interceptions, 97 yards rushing in 20 attempts and scored three touchdowns in another fine all-around performance. He had one receiving TD and two on the ground. The three touchdowns allowed Mathews to tie North Carolina four-time All-American Charlie Justice for the Southern Conference scoring championship.

The December game was played in shirt-sleeve weather at the dedication game for Charleston's Johnson Hagood Stadium.

Clemson 24, Missouri 23

January 1 at Jacksonville, FL

According to famed play-by-play announcer Ted Husing, the 1949 Gator Bowl would be a battle of Bludgeoning vs. Fencing. Clemson's Single Wing offense and unbalanced line attempted to drive the ball with precision power, while Missouri's "new" T-Formation attack featured precision passing.

Clemson entered the 1949 Gator Bowl in hopes of closing a perfect season. Frank Howard opened up his offense a bit in this contest, throwing a season high 23 passes, all by Gage. Boosted by the support of over 16,000 Clemson fans, the Tigers took a 14-0 lead in the first period behind two Fred Cone rushing touchdowns. But, Missouri came right back behind quarterback Bus Entsminger (no relation and different spelling from Clemson's current offensive coordinator) who scored twice in the second period.

The Tigers took the opening kickoff of the second period and drove 80 yards for a score. Bobby Gage had two long runs in the drive and the Tigers were fortunate on one play. Gage threw a pass to John Poulos, who lateraled the ball to Mathews. Mathews fumbled the pitch, but it fell back in the arms of Poulos, allowing Clemson to keep possession. Gage then threw a touchdown pass to Poulos and the Tigers had a 21-14 lead.

After a safety brought Missouri to within 21-16, the Tigers drove for a clinching score. A Bobby Gage to Thompson pass for 12 yards on a third-and-seven from the Missouri 38 was a key play in the drive. The drive stalled on the Missouri 15. On fourth-and-10, Frank Howard called on Jack Miller to boot a 32-yard field goal. The boot, the only successful field goal of the entire 1948 season, was good with 8:40 left in the game.

Clemson held Missouri and got the ball back with over four minutes left. Thanks to the running of Fred Cone, the Tigers were able to run out the clock. The key play on the last possession was a fourth-and-one from the Clemson 38. Cone gained three yards on the play that started with just a couple of minutes left, and Clemson could celebrate its first perfect season in 48 years.

Years later Howard would call that the most memorable play of his career. That's right, a three-yard run up the middle was his most memorable play in 39 years of coaching.

The victory over Missouri closed out an incredible season. But, as you look at the list of success stories among this group, it is certainly understandable how this team recorded a perfect season.

"This team was made up of an exceptional group of men," summarized Clanton. "Everyone on that team went on to be successful after they stopped playing, regardless of their endeavor. It is a testimony to Coach Howard. He was never consumed by winning, he really did a lot to prepare us for life after football."

How the 1948 team ranks in Clemson history

- * Second winningest season, 11-0
- * First in wins away from home, 7
- * One of 3 perfect seasons in Clemson history
